

Mexican Chief To Visit LBJ At White House

Two Presidents
Expected to View
Economic Subjects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz' three-day official visit with President Johnson is expected to feature hands-across-the-border cordiality rather than hard bargaining on mutual problems.

Diaz Ordaz, his wife and three children were flying directly from Mexico City to nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., today, there to board helicopters for the short hop to the White House and a formal 21-gun salute, red-carpet welcome.

"There are no outstanding issues for the two presidents to take up," one White House official said.

Joint Efforts

But he said Johnson and Diaz Ordaz doubtless would discuss the Alliance for Progress, moves toward Latin American economic integration, joint efforts to boost the social and economic welfare of the Rio Grande border region and, perhaps, possible construction of one or more new flood control dams along the river.

The question of new dams became more acute following last month's disastrous flooding in the Rio Grande Valley that followed the onslaught of Hurricane Beulah.

Johnson and Diaz Ordaz, long-time friends, will be seeing a good bit of each other during the next three days.

Fly to El Paso

Following the official round of ceremonies and meetings here, they will fly together Saturday morning to El Paso, Tex., for a series of three public appearances commemorating the amicable settlement of the 100-year-old Chamizal border dispute. A friction point between the two countries for many decades, the dispute arose because the Rio Grande River changed course in the El Paso area and put a slice of Mexican territory inside the legal border of the United States.

While in Washington, Diaz Ordaz will have two private meetings with Johnson, will be guest of honor at a White House state dinner, will be entertained at luncheons by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and on Friday, will address a joint session of Congress.

Early Friday evening, Rusk and the Mexican foreign secretary, Antonio Carrillo Flores, will sign a document legally establishing the new boundary between El Paso and Ciudad Juarez, Mexico.

Diaz Ordaz and Johnson have met five times since the Mexican was elected president of his country, but this will be his first official visit to Washington.

It is the first such visit here by a Mexican chief executive since former President Adolfo Lopez Mateos came in 1959.

2 Arrested For Threats On President

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two persons have been arrested by federal officers in connection with alleged threats on the life of President Johnson, who is to be in El Paso Saturday for signing of the Chamizal border treaty.

Shirley Rucker, 60, Albuquerque, N.M., was being held under $20,000 bond in Albuquerque after arraignment on a charge of threatening the President's life. U.S. Marshal Emilio Naranjo said Rucker was arrested at his home Tuesday night "while in the process of trying to telephone the White House to threaten the life of the President."

Robert Allen Moll, 29, was ordered jailed Wednesday in El Paso under $10,000 bond on the same charge after being arrested Tuesday by a deputy U.S. marshal at the office in El Paso where he is employed.

Power Plant In Capital Is Bombed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy bombers raided an electric power plant near the heart of Hanoi today, and two pilots reported shooting down a supersonic MIG21 just south of the Communist capital.

Fliers from the carrier Oriskany bombed the power plant 11 miles north of the center of Hanoi, continuing for a third straight day intensified U.S. raids on bridges, rail yards and MIG air bases around Hanoi and Haiphong.

The U.S. command said results of the latest Hanoi raid were not yet available. But it announced earlier that 10 more MIGs were destroyed or damaged on the ground during strikes Wednesday on the Phuc Yen air base 18 miles northwest of the Communist capital.

Claims Strafing

Tass, the Soviet news agency, in a dispatch from Hanoi said American planes bombed and strafed the center of the city. The dispatch said five U.S. planes were shot down and several American fliers bailed out. The U.S. Command made no announcement of any plane losses today but said three U.S. fighter-bombers were shot down Wednesday in the raids on Phuc Yen and on Hanoi's mile-long Doumer Bridge. All three pilots are missing.

The stepped-up air war in the North again overshadowed ground fighting in the South, but South Korean infantrymen and South Vietnamese militiamen reported they had 300 to 350 enemy soldiers trapped in three pockets near the South China Sea coast 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

33 Enemy Dead

Incomplete reports said 33 of the enemy had been killed so far, while Korean and Vietnamese casualties were light. The U.S. Command announced that American casualties in the ground war rose slightly last week and were more than double the South Vietnamese casualties. U.S. forces reported 193 killed, 949 wounded and seven missing, while the South Vietnamese said theirs were 81 killed, 355 wounded and two missing. It was the second week in succession that American casualties exceeded those of the South Vietnamese.

U.S. officials said 1,227 enemy were killed last week compared with 1,562 in the previous week.

Suez Fires Brought Under Control

U.N. Won't Censure Israel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Firefighters brought the oil fires in Egypt's Suez refineries under control Wednesday night, some 40 hours after Israeli shells set them blazing in a duel with Egyptian gunners across the Suez Canal.

The U.N. Security Council reacted to the artillery duel—each side accused the other of starting—by condemning all violations of the cease-fire which ended the June Arab-Israeli war. Because it did not censure Israel as the Russians demanded, the resolution constituted a diplomatic victory for the United States.

Reports by U.N. cease-fire observers did not pinpoint responsibility for the artillery duel Tuesday.

More Observers

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant asked the Security Council to increase the number of truce observers from 43 to 90 and requested four patrol boats and four small helicopters for them.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram reported the fires under control at the Nasr and Suez refinery complexes, which filled nearly three-fourths of Egypt's domestic petroleum needs. But the flames were not expected to be out until some time today. Egyptian officials reported eight civilians and eight military men killed in the shelling and 60 civilians and 32 military men wounded.

Al-Ahram said 17 storage tanks were set on fire but gave no further details on damage. It said no shortages were anticipated in the supply of such vital commodities as kerosene, benzene and bottle gas, but measures were being prepared to "organize distribution" should the need arise.

Gov. Hamid Mahmoud of Suez told visiting newsmen the damage was extensive.

"Destroyed Factory" — The enemy completely destroyed an asphalt factory, benzene and solar tanks and a whole pipeline," the newspaper said. "Only crude oil tanks in the southern region survived this savage blow."

Mahmoud also said some

Shells hit houses, schools and of Soviet warships visited Port Said in the tense weeks after the June war but despite the Krenin's support of the Arabs took no action against Israeli forces in the Mediterranean would arrive today at Port Said, at the northern end of the Suez Canal. At the United Nations, the Soviet Union had asked for a resolution condemning Israel and demanding reparations for damage caused by its guns. A U.S. resolution condemned all violations of the cease-fire and insisted on observance of the truce.

The 10 nonpermanent members of the 15-nation Security Council worked out a compromise, condemning cease-fire violations and expressing regret over casualties and property damage. It was approved unanimously.

The resolution appealed to both Israel and the Arab states, to "cease immediately all prohibited military activities in the area and to cooperate fully and promptly" with U.N. peace observers.

Prayers at Vatican City

Pope, Patriarch Step Toward Reunion

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI and Patriarch Athenagoras prayed side by side in St. Peter's Basilica today, repeatedly embraced in the kiss of peace and pledged unceasing efforts to reunite Christianity.

Never in the history of the two churches had such a meeting occurred—the leader of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics and the head of the 150 million Orthodox praying together inside the largest church in Christendom.

It was the first visit by a leader of Orthodoxy since the Church split apart in 1054. It marked a giant step toward future reunion.

'That We Be One'

Before cardinals, Orthodox metropolitans and the 200 bishops from around the world here for the Vatican synod, Pope and patriarch vowed anew to do all in their power to make reunion a reality some day.

In a speech to the patriarch, Pope Paul declared God "demands with greater insistence than ever that we be one that the world may believe."

The Pope said the renewal going on in the Catholic Church "is in fact the most fundamental prerequisite for our drawing closer to one another."

He added: "If in our efforts for renewal we see a sign of the action of the Spirit urging us on to re-establish full communion with one another and preparing us for it, does not the contemporary world, filled with unbelief in many forms, also give us a preeminent reminder of the need we have for unity with one another?"

Athenagoras told the Pope Christ—not only because it carries out the will of God but also "the voice of the church that the world may see shining again what is the first principle of the church—unity."

He said the fact "that we have emerged from our isolation and our self-sufficiency to seek the solid ground on which the indivisible church is founded shows the truth that what unites us is much more than what divides us."

The vast basilica echoed with applause as the Pope and patriarch, standing before the main altar, embraced again and again.

Then leading Catholic cardinals came to the patriarch to exchange the kiss of peace with him.

Before the religious service began Pope Paul and Athenagoras embraced at the doors to St. Peter's.

Third Meeting — The visit of the bearded, 81-year-old patriarch to the Pope—their third meeting—was expected to accelerate contacts between their churches. Athenagoras came to Rome to repay the visit the Pope made to him in Istanbul last July. They met first in January, 1964, in Jerusalem, when Pope Paul made the first trip outside Italy by a modern pontiff.

The Orthodox Church, with 150 million members, is closer in doctrine and spirit to the 500-million-member Roman Catholic Church than any other Christian faith. Because of this, the growing rapport between the Pope and the patriarch is expected to produce the most fruitful developments in the drive to reunite the world's Christian churches.

Insecticide Blamed As 7 Children Die

ARCADIA, Fla. (AP) — The report as yet. The deaths are last of James and Annie Mae still under investigation; only Richardson's seven children through extreme carelessness, died today—poisoned by an agricultural insecticide.

Pathologist Millard White of Diane, 3, died at 5:30 a.m., Sarasota, who performed autopsy more than 12 hours after her brother and sisters died, one said they definitely died of parathion or malathion poisoning.

"If I could only have my child back," Richardson said Wednesday night. "I don't understand how it all happened so fast."

By 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, six of the children, who ate a lunch of rice and beans flavored with pieces of hog's head, were dead. DeSoto County Sheriff Frank Cline said the children's parents insisted there was no poison in the crowded, four-room apartment where the family lived.

"Extreme Carelessness" — "We're analyzing the food to see if it contained any traces of poison," the sheriff said today, "but we haven't received any

Internal Politics May Hurt Israeli Progress

Eshkol and Dayan Disagree on Military Policy; Unemployment Hits Economy

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

TEL AVIV — Beneath the new tensions in the Middle East, now climaxed with the sinking of an Israeli destroyer, an inner debate is raging among politicians and intellectuals here that has the utmost significance for the future of this embattled little country.

Evans Novak

The basic question, as put to us by a rising young politician, is whether Israel "glides into a conquistadorial role," and simply incorporates the land it won as administered territories; or whether it becomes a "bi-national, Levantine state," embracing the million new Arabs, whose lands were seized in the war, as equal political partners in a state that no longer could be wholly "Jewish" in personality or character.

The Basic Question

If the Arab states, led by Nasser's Egypt, would recognize the independence of Israel, for example, under iron-clad guarantees, and enter a new era of partnership, this basic question would not need asking. If that condition ever came about, all but a fraction of the new Israeli territory, four times the size of old Israel, could be returned.

But few here believe this is a practical possibility. So the "basic question" is debated with an inconclusive passion that threatens to disturb the political underpinnings of the country. Even before the war the government of Premier Levi Eshkol was split over how to deal with the Arabs. Eshkol, for example, tried to obtain cabinet backing for a policy of war on May 27 and was blocked by a tie vote.

Eshkol vs. Dayan

Eshkol also tried to shift Labor Minister Yigal Alon to the ministry of defense, but was voted down by the cabinet. Major General Moshe Dayan, the hero of the 1956 Arab-Israeli war, who had recently been in eclipse, got the job instead. The Eshkol-Dayan feud reached an absurd point last month when Dayan refused to give a private interview to no less a personage than U.S. Senator Stuart Symington because Eshkol had publicly rebuked Dayan for having too many interviews.

This feud is symptomatic of the political debate going on here over the fundamental question of what path Israel should take to guarantee its future. Eshkol represents the older generation, men who have been in power since independence and who are under increasing pressure to retire by a new generation of men like Dayan and Shimon Perez, the founder of the political party called RAFAI — an offshoot of the MAPAI party that controls the government.

Hope is now vanishing that post-war pressures would reunite MAPAI and RAFAI, and that MAPAI would agree to some of the political reforms demanded by RAFAI. (For example, RAFAI wants to abandon the straight-slate voting list, which gives the old-generation party apparatus total power over who can get on the ballot and run for the Knesset).

Economic Problems

This debate between the generations goes far beyond the question of how to assure a secure future against the Arabs. The RAFAI is convinced, for example, that if the Israeli economy isn't turned loose from its egalitarian moorings and allowed to make more use of such capitalistic devices as incentive taxation and higher profits, it will stagnate. Unemployment is now a political problem here for the first time.

With all this, two points of policy are agreed upon in the effort to come to terms with the victory of last June, but they are only tentative. The first of these is to give new land and a new life to 35,000 Arab refugees of the 1948 war by relocating them on the West Bank territories won in the 1967 war. This is only the merest fraction of the total Arab refugees, but if Israel can make a showcase out of these first 35,000, it could point the way toward eventual solution of the whole embittering refugee problem.

The second point on which all politicians here agree is that Egypt alone holds the key to a political solution, but that Nasser's tenure as the ruler of Egypt is strictly limited. Thus, any negotiations with Nasser through friends or proxies are probably meaningless. And so the debate over the future, and for the soul of the new Israel, continues in a setting far more difficult than could have been imagined at the pinnacle of brilliant victory nearly five months ago. As yet, there simply are no hard answers.

Cluster Headaches Can Be Caused Many Ways

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that I have cluster headaches. I have not heard of them before. Would you discuss them in your column? — Mrs. L.O.

The type (or types) we are discussing today all come under the general category of vascular

Dr. Molner

Cluster headaches are a variant of migraine, and related to histamine headache. The term "cluster" means a group or a bunch; hence cluster headaches are likely to appear in a series, followed by a period in which the patient is free of them.

They may occur at night, waking the patient; or they may tend to occur at some particular time of day.

Onset is sudden. While they are severe, usually they are of reasonably short duration. Headaches may have causes either inside or outside the head.

times desensitization is an answer. When there is warning of an attack coming on, as is the case with most migraine sufferers, medications containing ergot and other drugs can, if taken promptly, stall off the headache but may not stop the headache once it has begun. Emotional upsets are a known factor in many such headaches. Alcohol (which dilates arteries) can precipitate attacks, and drugs such as nitroglycerin can do the same.

Dear Dr. Molner: All my life I have been troubled with prostate trouble stemming from a case of gonorrhea at the age of 20. I am now 64 and still receiving treatment by massage and medication at intervals. That helps, but the backache, burning urine, and the need to get up at night continue. My doctor says surgery eventually will be necessary. Would you comment on this? Please send your booklet, "The Pesky Prostate," for which I enclose 20 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. — C.J.M.

Chronic prostate trouble alone is enough reason to be wary of venereal disease, or to get treatment immediately if the disease is contracted. Gonorrhea can be the cause of prostate infection. At your age other types of infections can occur and become chronic. It can be difficult to subdue. Timing of the surgery as well as its extent will have to depend on your doctor's judgment.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read your letter from the lady who couldn't swallow pills, and the suggestions from your readers. Nobody came up with my discovery.

Try it yourself. Put a pill on the tip of your tongue (which many people do) and try to swallow it. You will have difficulty if you succeed at all.

But put a pill on the back part of your tongue and see how quickly a swallow of liquid washes it down. — G.C.W.

Thank you very much. I'm sure it will help many.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have lumps on my wrists, neck and ankles which the doctor says are fatty tumors, but I am afraid they will become malignant. — M.H.

Fatty tumors do not become malignant. They sometimes have to be removed because of appearance or because they are

On an ordinary bowling night, members of the Cocktail Couples League act with decorum and dignity. But the Halloween season calls for something special, and Saturday evening, at Sabre Lanes, the bowlers went all out to create new personalities for themselves.

Pocahontas arrived at the lanes with Hiawatha; flower children brought their blossoms; cowboys accompanied frontier women, and raggedy

Andy's brought their Annes. The sight of such newcomers, and such strange characters on the lanes was cause for hilarity, for in the hands of a cave man a bowling ball becomes a boulder, and, held by a civil war soldier or cowboy, a cannonball. It is Satan's fire and brim-

There are 32 couples in the league, which bowls regularly during the fall and winter season. Couples' bowling has become increasingly popular in recent years, and all the alleys in the area have scheduled such groups.

Carrying His Forked Stick and promising woe to all who outbowl him is Robert Stumpf, who came to the party as the evil man himself. At left, in a devil-may-care attitude, is James Jurek

If it's a Boulder, it's too round. If it's anything else, it's an anachronism. Caveman Lyle Friebe studies the situation at the Saturday night bowling ritual. (Post-Crescent Photos)

College 'Wife-Saver' for Women in Middle Years

"I feel alive again!" This enthusiastic paean from a housewife student could be the theme song of a new movement of middle-aged women back to college. Instead, it is one title in a bibliography just published by the Business and Professional Women's Foundation.

Such cases — for instance, two women who entered medical school after 20 years out of college and finished at the top of the class — have created a flood of books, articles and studies. Old myths have been shattered and new problems brought out by the swelling march back to the campus. The works listed in the bibliography bring out such findings as:

Women in the middle years seem to need mental stimulation more than men do. "The wife we save may be your own," says one writer.

Older women have done extremely well and have met no resentment in competing with young students, they know better than most young people what they want from college training. Exams and credit for learning through independent study and life experience are being used by Brooklyn College and college entrance boards.

Changing careers at mid life is now possible, even common. Women's life patterns are different. Many of them will play dual roles and have breaks in education and career, so they should begin thinking about this as early as high school days.

Greatest Potentials
Updating' women taps one of the greatest and most neglected potentials in American life. And as the women prove themselves, colleges are becoming more flexible in admissions scheduling and even scholarship aid.

The books, articles and reports which describe these trends are annotated in the new bibliography, "Continuing Education for Women," prepared by Jeanne Spiegel, librarian of the Business and Professional Women's Foundation. The project was financed by the Foundation, and free copies are available upon request from the library at 2012 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Fall Colors 'Big' in Corduroy Ensembles

The cool, crisp days of fall will bring out an exciting new crop of corduroy fashions. Wide wale cotton corduroy... lush, plush, and richer looking than ever... is a front runner in the fashion race this fall. Designers like the extra wide wale variety for the popular pantsuit. Pantsuit's Story The long and short of the pantsuit story are both interpreted in corduroy. For instance, the short look is featured in one new "trouser skirt" outfit in wide wale corduroy. It comes in a rich burnt orange color that glows like an autumn sunset. The suit has a fitted jacket called a "Nehru" style, with high collar, big industrial zipper closing, and a slightly indented waist. A new kind of jacket silhouette also is seen in a corduroy pantsuit with wales worked vertically for the long pants. Horizontally for the jacket. It's a short fencing jacket that zips up the side, with a side-buttoned high collar. The pants are dark chocolate brown, and the jacket is rich cream color.

'Latin Lovers' Take Up Pen To Win Mail-Order Brides

By JULIE KRUGER
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Whatever happened to the Latin Lover?
"He's become a timid middle class professional," sighed a Venezuelan psychiatrist. And he gets his girl through the mails—or so it seems from the droves of Latins who turn to lonely hearts columns in top-circulation magazines for the perfect mate. One such column receives almost 10,000 letters a year from would-be Don Juans who've lost that magic touch. Worse yet, requests from men far outnumber those from women. 500 Letters a Week "We must get 500 letters a week for our 'Sentimental Consultation' said the editor of a family weekly which boasts the biggest circulation in Venezuela and the most successful marriages. Even a magazine which caters strictly to women is swamped with letters from men. The most popular lonely hearts columns are run by three women. "When I took mine over, it was being done by a man," said one of them. "It wasn't very successful. Can you imagine a Latin man admitting his amorous failures to another?" Take Mission Seriously The three matchmakers take their marital mission seriously. "I wanted to be a great writer," said one before her editor asked her to take over "Sentimental Consultation." "But when I realized the beauty of a thing like this I dedicated myself to it fulltime." "Whoever dreamed it would be this big," bubbled the 73-year-old grandmother who is arbiter of one column called "Marriage Mailbox." Letters received by the matchmakers range from passionate to practical. "I'm as ardent as Vulcan," wrote one man. "But my warlike demeanor hides a tender heart. Having failed to find the woman whose ardor equals mine, I search for the flame that will devour me eternally. (Signed) The Firearc timid. That Kills (Fuego Que Mata)." "The idea of the male as cougar. Like Them Young" Whatever the style, they all seek the same qualities in their future spouse. "They like them young," said one of the columnists. She explained that men of 25 ask for women in their early 20s and so do men between 40 and 50. "Above all they demand an irreproachable past," said the first matchmaker. Latin women play up in their letters qualities they know the men want. Almost to a woman they describe themselves as sincere, honest, hard-working, home-loving and humble. But they are adamant about what they are after. "You must have culture, good character, a steady job and no physical defects," read a typical request. Reputation Remains Invariably the women ask men with vices to abstain. The Latin Lover may have disappeared, but his reputation certainly has not. "I think that men write into those things for fun," said a pretty young sociologist. "Not so at all," retorted the

Michigan Girl Named Queen At St. Norbert

WEST DEPERE — "I've been sneezed rotten this past week and loved every single minute of it," says Miss Carol Hines, who will reign as queen Saturday at St. Norbert College's homecoming activities. The brunette senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hines, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., was sponsored by Tau Lambda Upsilon fraternity. The group captioned on their candidate's last name and constructed a 16-foot catsup bottle with flashing lights on campus. Special privileges belonging to Miss Hines this week include presiding over the kangaroo court for freshmen, having the use of a 1968 car, being escorted to and from classes by members of Tau Lambda Upsilon and being presented with a new corsage every day. "Right now my room looks like a flower shop," states the queen. Miss Hines, a French major, is vice president of Theta Phi Alpha sorority and enjoys playing piano. After graduation she plans to spend a year in France or Switzerland to "really learn the language" and then perhaps get into a phase of international trade. Miss Hines will be crowned during a halftime ceremony at Saturday's football game against Northern Michigan University.

Lucky 'Damn Cat' Writing Inspiration

Let no one ever tell the down and the constant trips to Gordon Gordons that a black cat the veterinarian that resulted is bad luck

One acquired at Halloween about The Gordons' property, time 12 years ago has brought. They are trying to make amends the Encino, Calif., husband-wife now. They feed him the best writing team nothing but good food and invite him in to sleep nights because of his advancing age. "As a result," said Mildred Gordon, "he's badly in need of a girdle."

He inspired them to write two "Undercover Cat" novels in which he is the hero. Walt Disney based "That Darn Cat" on his hilarious adventures, and more than 1,000 high schools and colleges this year will be staging a play about him.

His name is D.C. which stands for Damn Cat in the novels. Darn Cat in the Disney film.

He has earned The Gordons, who paid $2 for him at a Los Angeles animal shelter, nearly a quarter million dollars. The novels sold 1,700,000 copies in 17 countries, and the Disney film grossed $22 million.

The Gordons admit rather sheepishly that they once begrudged all the cat food wolfed down by the cat.

Her teacher was a disciple of Maharshi Mahesh Yoga, described as a favorite teacher of the Beatles and the Rolling Stones. Mrs. Sinatra has announced plans to visit Maharshi in India.

Miss Farrow said her mother, actress Maureen O'Sullivan, also is interested in Yoga.

Svetlana Gives Funds From Book to Charity

NEW YORK (AP) — Svetlana Alliluyeva is giving her "small paradise on earth," Kalakankar, India, $250,000 for a hospital from the proceeds of her book describing the pleasures and pains of growing up as Stalin's daughter.

She contributed another $90,000 to groups aiding needy Russians and a Russian periodical here and abroad.

She took the ashes of her husband, Brajesh Singh, to his native Kalakankar—population 5,000—last Christmas Day and after 67 days there decided not to return to the Soviet Union. She came to this country after India refused her asylum.

Members of Singh's family are organizing a fund to use the gift to build and maintain a 30-bed hospital.

Helps Elderly

The largest other grant was for $50,000 to the Tolstoy Foundation. Its president is Alexandra Tolstoy, 83-year-old daughter of the late author, Lee Tolstoy. The foundation maintains an old-age home in Valley Cottage, N.Y., and helps other elderly emigres throughout the world.

Stalin's daughter also gave $10,000 to the Russian Children's Welfare Society Inc. in New York, $10,000 to the Foyer des Enfants—Russian Home—in Paris, $10,000 to the Pestalozzi Children's Village in Switzerland, $5,000 to Litfund—the Fund for the Relief of Russian writers and Scientists in Exile, and $5,000 to the Russian literary quarterly published here, Novi Zhurnal (The New Review).

Mrs. Alliluyeva organized the Brajesh Singh Charitable Trust Fund here last May to receive the proceeds from her book, "Twenty Letters to a Friend," minus deductions for living expenses and fees. The contributions were disbursed by the fund.

It is believed publication of the book and its serialization have brought in more than $2.5 million, although no figures have been made public.

Sheinwold Hollywood Bridge Is Like Poker

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Not long ago, at one of those wild Hollywood parties that columnists gossip about, a starlet minced over to our table and asked brightly, "Are you playing bridge or poker?" For the life of us we couldn't tell her.

We had just played the hand shown today. I led the three of spades from the West hand, and my partner's queen drove out the king. Omar Sharif, the declarer, looked at the hand for two seconds and then casually led the king of clubs.

This play was sheer poker, but it was also good bridge. I couldn't tell that Sharif needed only one club trick; he would

'Let's Play Ann Landers' Game Favorite Among Teen-Agers

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: A new fad started a few weeks ago. It has really taken hold and I wonder if you know about it. It's called "Let's play Ann Landers."
Here's how it works: When teen-agers get together (it can be either a group or just one boy and one girl) and the conversation lags, someone pops up with "Let's play Ann Landers."
The person who is "It" is asked a question by anyone in the crowd. The person who must judge "It's" answer is called "Pigeon." It can be a sensible question or a dumb question or a personal question. The trick is to come up with an answer that sounds like Ann Landers. "Pigeon" is then asked if he agrees with Ann.
He must say "yes" or "no" and state his reasons. If he doesn't come up with a good reason he is "It" until he makes the grade.
You'd come unglued if you could hear some of the answers. One kid had a column of yours in his wallet. He just whipped it out and read the answer and cracked up the whole crowd.

This game is a gas. It also

Landers helps kids get to know each other better. Please print my letter and tell us you aren't insulted. — Garden City Princes

Dear Princes: Indeed not. I'm flattered. I wish I could be a little mouse in the corner during one of these sessions. Keep talking, kids. I'm all for it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I need some help with my 12-year-old daughter. Her daddy died when she was seven months old and I went to live with my widowed mother and unmarried sister. Terry has grown up with no man in the house — unfortunately her only uncle lives 1,000 miles away.
Ever since Terry was a small child she was overly affectionate toward any male who came into the house. She climbed on men's laps, combed their hair, patted their faces and begged them to kiss her. This was considered cute when she was a tot, but now I'm worried because she has not outgrown it as I had hoped she would. I feel she should not be kissing the mailman, the meter reader, the paper boy and everything in trousers. I would appreciate your advice on what to do, Ann. — Trouble Ahead

Dear Trouble: Little girls who grow up with no man in the house sometimes become starved for fatherly affection and this is why they become overly affectionate to "anything in trousers." (Incidentally, the same thing occurs to little girls whose fathers ignore them.)

I hope you will speak to your daughter's teacher. Ask her advice. Some schools have excellent counseling programs and perhaps Terry can get the help she needs from the school counselor. If not, ask the teacher to recommend someone.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents in coin with your request. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Women Sail Into Tasks On Raft of 'Wife-Savers'

By JEAN DONALD
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Homemakers can either sink or swim...

The ones who sink aren't doing the best possible job for themselves and their families. They merely flounder through their duties.

The swimmers know the score when it comes to homemaking. They run a household economically and efficiently. These women have learned to make the best use of their resources—time, energy and money.

How can a woman become a successful homemaker?

Planning and organization are the key words to "wife preserving." Grocery lists, work schedules, menus, budgets and common sense help make life easier and more enjoyable.

Look at Resources
Let's look at the time and energy resources first.

You can reduce the amount of time and energy spent on housework by applying the same principles industrial engineers do, says Louis Frangipane, industrial engineer at Electronic Communications Inc. (ECI).

Simulate whenever possible. Get one job going and do another while waiting for the first to finish. For example—start the coffee, then set the automatic washer. By the time you're done in the laundry, the coffee will be ready.

While the clothes are washing, clean the living room or bedroom. Dust with both hands at the same time (it works).

When making sandwiches, put on the top slices of bread with left hand, cutting sandwich with right hand at same time—and so on.

Plan by Week

Plan a week's menu at a time. "Because every time you go to the store, you buy something you didn't plan to," says Mrs. Charlotte Lattimer, county extension home economies agent. Do your grocery shopping in the morning—you're not tired and hungry then, and not as apt to overbuy.

Make a shopping list ahead of time.

Read labels to compare price in terms of quality and quantity. Freezers can save you money if you have a sizable family and can buy economically in quantity. Store a wide range of items for convenience and savings.

When buying at sales, consider the time, energy and money costs of getting there. Shoo at the start of the sale for best selection. Be sure the sale price is an actual reduction. Watch for damages, check styles—and remember, nothing is a bargain unless you need it.

Avoid Impulses

Avoid impulse buying. If it's a major purchase you're considering, make your decision after you've had ample time to think over. Don't shop when you're in a hurry—chances are you'll be dissatisfied later.

Remember to count your change, watch weights and measures, check sales slips.

Read a sales or instalment contract completely before you sign. Make sure you read the fine print. Read guarantees and keep them.

Follow instructions for use and care of appliances or clothing. They could be damaged by improper use or cleaning and require expensive repairs or replacement.

Traffic Pattern

Eliminate unnecessary fatigue. Study your movements. Does the traffic pattern in your kitchen cause extra steps? Items you use most often should be stored where you can reach them easily, with the least amount of bending or stretching. Lift with your legs and arms, not your back. Bending your knees makes stooping easier. Learn to iron sitting down.

Store items at the point of use, suggests Mrs. Lattimer. Carry cleaning supplies in a basket or box to eliminate steps. If your house is large, have a closet where duplicate cleaning supplies are kept.

Have more than one set of utensils—measuring spoons, rubber scrapers. For example, measuring cups or spoons might be stored at a mixing center and another set at the range and serving center.

Air Dry Dishes

Rinse dishes in very hot water, then let them air dry instead of wiping them with a towel.

Use plastic and paper place mats and napkins—they need no washing or ironing.

Buy permanently pressed, no-iron clothes. For best results, tumble dry and remove before completely dry. Fold in laundry or yard—don't toss in the basket to be folded later.

Have your family sort their clothes before dumping them in

Senator Church, Son Rescue Family of Four

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, told how he and his 10-year-old son rescued a family of four after their canoe overturned in the Potomac River Sunday.

Church said he, his wife and son Chase rented a canoe, paddled a while, then beached it for a rest.

Church said they heard shouts offshore, and he and his son paddled out to investigate. They found two young children and their parents, wearing lifebelts, clinging to the side of a canoe.

Church and his son got the four to shore. Church said he did not get their names.

Black Is Back

A basic (noncommittal) black dress once was the mainstay of every wardrobe. A black basic was practically indestructible. It went everywhere at most any hour. With a change of accessories, gaberline jumpers, melton capes, belted suits. And there's the back of the night — velvet theatre suits, tiered lace dresses, heavy crepey dinner togas.

As exciting as black are the ways to wear it. Daytime black looks great with brown suede shoes and opaque brown stockings. The opaque, lightweight black stocking and the black stretch leather boot are natural, of course.

In the evening, black wants for glitter: shiny sheer nylons, slippers with a small heel and a diamante buckle — both jet black — and snowy white lace gloves.

ies it changed from a day to a dinner dress.

Then came the color explosion which blew black off the fashion map. But it seems you can't keep a good fashion down: black is back.

And with a difference. There's nothing basic about it. It's sensational.

There's black for day —

Calumet Agent Named to Direct Shoreline Zoning

CHILTON — Orrin Meyer, Calumet County agriculture agent, and the Calumet Park Committee were authorized Wednesday by the Calumet County board to prepare a shoreline and flood plain zoning ordinance.

This is to meet the state water quality law requirements, which if not enforced on the county level, will be handled by the state.

Meyer, informed both on the plat in question and the new water law, will temporarily be replaced as agriculture agent. He will resume his duties after the zoning work is completed.

In other action the board adopted resolutions for the re-appointment of Mrs. John Landgraf Jr. as member of the Calumet Homestead Board of

Measure Introduced

Proposal Will Affect Common, Contract Carriers in State

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A measure to extend the state three per cent sales tax to trucks and other vehicles and equipment sold to common and contract carriers has been offered in the Legislature by a group of members representing districts concerned about long bridge construction needs.

The bill would segregate the receipts of such a levy, informally estimated to yield about Trustees for 3-year term and the authorization for maintenance of soldiers graves.

15 million yearly, in the so-called long bridge fund of the State Highway Division which is now authorized to spend only $250,000 annually.

Highway officials have repeatedly responded to the appeals of cities in the Fox River Valley and other major population districts of the state saying that they are not now financially able to pay for the bridges those localities desire and cannot finance out of their own resources.

Sponsors Include

Among the eight sponsors of the measure are Assemblymen Floyd Shurburg of Winnebago County, Ervin Conradt of Outagamie County, Lawrence Kafka of Brown County and C. H. Johnson of Door County, all of them representing constituencies where new bridge construction is an issue.

Several of the authors of the bill said they anticipate influential opposition to the idea of taxing commercial vehicles.

Appleton Woman Seeks $25,000 For Injury in Fall

WAUPACA — An Appleton woman is seeking $25,000 for injuries received in a fall at a Fremont supper club parking lot Jan. 9, 1966, according to a personal injury suit filed Wednesday with Waupaca County Clerk of Courts Orin A. Stevenson.

Mrs. Gussie Heigl, 906½ S.

Oneida St., suffered a broken right ankle when she fell at the Grand View Supper Club, according to the complaint. The club is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swedesky.

The suit charges that the equipment of private truckers' parking lot was unsafe and while exempting their contract hazardous to use and not properly lighted at the time Mrs. Heigl fell.

Sherwood School to Close for Two Days

SHERWOOD — Classes at Sacred Heart School will be dismissed on All Saints Day, Wednesday. Classes will be resumed for one day and dismissed for parent-teacher conferences Nov. 3.

Parents are asked to provide pupil transportation Nov. 2 as the buses will not run because public schools will be closed while teachers attend the annual convention in Milwaukee.

Buckley Calls Discussion on VTE-12 Budget

District Leaders Asked to Attend Session in Appleton

Municipal officials from cities, villages and towns in a four-county area have been asked to meet in Appleton Monday to discuss and take possible legal steps to soften the impact of Vocational School District (VTE-12) tax levies.

The amounts assessed communities for the vocational program in 1968, after the forming of the district, rose sharply compared with previous years.

Mayor George Buckley, with the authorization of the Appleton City Council, wrote to mayors, managers and village presidents in Outagamie, Calumet, Waupaca and Winnebago Counties asking them to participate.

Meet Monday

The emergency meeting will be at the Left Guard Charcoal House, 3025 W. College Avenue, in the Town of Grand Chute.

Buckley sent the letters Wednesday afternoon, declaring, "I am asking for your cooperation in attending a meeting, together with your respective attorneys, to discuss possible legal steps to be taken with respect to the drastic increase in assessment levied against all of us by the Area Vocational School District."

Buckley cited, for example, that last year's assessment against Appleton was less than $30,000 but this year is almost $40,000.

"I am sure that most of you have experienced similar situations and I believe that it is urgent to determine whether or not we can do anything about it," Buckley wrote officials.

Buckley asked officials to notify his office if they could attend.

Asks Help

"Any help that you could render in contacting interested town chairmen in your area would be greatly appreciated," Buckley added. "It is quite possible that a number of these men might wish to join us in this discussion."

Buckley and others who have questioned the vocational district levies intend to determine how much tax money will go toward administrative purposes, and monies apparently included to build up a fund for site acquisition and area school construction at a later date.

Feeling has been expressed that the Vocational District board should consider handing rather than having cost of long-term items supported by annual property tax rates.

The First Gift to Appleton High School-East was presented to the metal shop by Local 1335, United Auto Workers, Fox River Tractor Co. A precision instrument, a vernier height gauge, was presented by James Duquette, chief steward, left, and Gordon Vander Wynt, union president to Donald Gee, right, an instructor in the industrial arts department. "Because of the cuts in our budget, we have had to eliminate some of the instruments so this is a needed and valuable asset," said Armin Gerhardt, vocational education coordinator. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Fox Cities Miss Blast Of Winter

The Fox Cities' weather summed down Wednesday — way down to the steady lower 30's and a 16 mile per hour wind that made it feel much colder.

But the rest of the state fared much worse, especially the northern tip which was given a mighty foretaste of winter as a heavy snowstorm howled across the upper Midwest.

Unofficially more than 12 inches of snow was reported in the Hurley area, with three-foot drifts on some roads.

There also was some light snow and snow flurries in other northern sections, and reports of heavy snow in the extreme north in areas adjacent to Lake Superior.

Winnebago Support Asked For Lake Pipeline Hearing

Study Sought Of Diversion By Appleton

OSHKOSH — The Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission has made an effort to get Winnebago County support in requesting a public hearing on Appleton's proposed water transmission line to Lake Winnebago.

In a letter read before board supervisors Wednesday night, Gordon A. Bubolz, commission chairman, said that the Public Service Commission and the Department of Natural Resources have been asked to investigate all aspects of the pipeline and its effect on the lake.

Supv. Alfred Becher, Menasha, who read the letter, said the pipeline would give Appleton up to 48 million gallons of water a day. He said Appleton would not be putting any water back into the lake.

Granted Authority

An application to the Public Service Commission by Appleton had granted the city authority to construct the pipeline.

The Public Service Commission was only required to consider the "prudence of investment on the cost of services and rates charges for service," according to Bubolz.

The commission was not required by statute to consider the effect the pipeline would have on the community's affected causes of pollution to the Fox River and landowners with riparian interests on the lake, Bubolz said.

Poor Statutes

Bubolz stressed, "It is evident that the statutes fall short of the needed consideration of problems which affect the public interest in connection with major water withdrawals by a public utility."

Bubolz stated that a hearing should be required for protection of water resources — not only in regard to small changes along lake shores, but also when major water projects are proposed.

Earlier this week the Calumet County board ordered Dist. Atty. F. J. Schmieder to launch a thorough investigation into Appleton's Lake Winnebago pipeline and possible effects of water diversion on the lake level and shoreline.

The board, at its September session, issued a strongly worded protest to the plan and directed inquiries to the Public Service Commission and the attorney general's office.

Appleton Man Fined $45 on Two Charges In Outagamie Court

Paul D. Sible, 20, 635 W. Atlantic St., was fined a total of $45 and costs Wednesday after he was found guilty of speeding, and of loitering in a liquor bar.

The cases were tried on the same day before Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller. There was no jury.

Appleton police arrested Sible for speeding in the 600 block of E. Wisconsin Avenue about 12:05 a.m. Oct. 3, and of loitering in Ken's Tap, 1306 E. Wisconsin Ave.

Although the speeding charge alleged that Sible was driving 45 miles per hour in a 25 zone, the charge was amended, in court, to speeding 36-37 miles per hour.

Trial Begins In U.S. Court

Appleton Resident Charged for Coin Burglary in Menasha

Special to The Post-Crescent

MILWAUKEE — Federal prosecutors this morning began presenting their case against Donald R. Peters, 28, 916 Ridge Lane, Appleton, who is charged with carrying stolen coins across state lines after the March 19 burglary of a Mensaha grocery.

Peters had pleaded innocent to the charge in April after being arrested and charged by FBI officers.

Theft At Grocery

Some $40,000 to $50,000 in coins were taken from Ervin Wanserski, who operated a coin dealership from the basement of his grocery store at 428 Sixth St., Menasha.

Bound and Gagged

Three armed men bound and gagged Wanserski's family while forcing the grocer to help carry the heavy coins in boxes, bags and grocery carts from the basement storage room.

Peters' trial began with selection of a 12-member jury followed by opening arguments by federal prosecutors and Peters' defense counsel. The court calendar allows two days for the trial, being conducted by U. S. District Judge John R. Reynolds.

Phone Rates Will be Cut Wednesday

Telephone users can save money on long distance calls beginning next Wednesday when rates will be cut.

Manager Richard Van Sistine, Wisconsin Telephone Co., Appleton, says the rate reductions will mean lower charges on calls over 469 miles, longer time periods and added days when lower rates apply and a new "midnight to 7" special dial rate with a 65 cent maximum for the initial three minutes of a call anywhere in the United States.

The night station rates will now include the 12-hour period from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m., Van Sistine said. The maximum rate for a three-minute station call during this period will be 85 cents to any point in the U.S., excluding Alaska and Hawaii.

The evening rates also will be extended one hour earlier, from 5-7 p.m. Transcontinental rates will drop from a maximum of $1.50 to $1.25.

Examiners Slash Public Works Budget $127,445

A $127,445 slash was made in the public works department of all proposed expenditures and budget request Wednesday night after the council's finance committee made a close review of the request.

The original operating budget for the department's several divisions, was $1,460,755.

Examiners spent five hours on the appropriation requests, adjourning at midnight without attempting to review the proposed $1,968,256 capital outlay expenditures which will be considered tonight.

Cut from the operating budget were:

- Street division, $43,660, mostly earmarked for maintenance equipment purchases
- Sanitation division, $13,000, adjustment in administrative areas and proposed positions. No decision was reached on a $40,000 request for loader-train equipment for garbage-trash collections.
- Funds Earmarked
- Maintenance Division, $69,650, earmarked for a storage building next to the new municipal building and a dock

Quitting Smokers Given Support By AA-Type Experimental Groups

Best news for cigarette smokers who face a serious health problem is that experimental groups, similar to Alcoholics Anonymous, seem to be successful.

Mrs. Donald Morrissey, Appleton, reported on the new groups at a public meeting Wednesday afternoon sponsored by the Outagamie County Unit of the American Cancer Society the First National Bank of Neenah. Mrs. Morrissey is a member of the state board, and its lay representative on the national house of delegates which meets annually in New York.

She said a long-time smoker, who "has to quit" has evidently found that the moral support from other members of a group in a similar situation has made the transition easier.

Decision Time

The main program was the showing of an animated movie, "A Time for Decision . . . The Next Step is Yours," which deals primarily with the many attractive advertisements to lure the smoker.

The film is directed to come to provide an understanding of the formulation and implementation of policy in public and private universities in America, and illnesses from coronary. Specifically, the seminar will heart disease, emphysema, lung cancer and other diseases associated with smoking.

The meeting was opened by Samuel Pickard, chairman of the board of the First National Bank, who introduced Dr. F. LeRoy Schaefer, Neenah, who talked briefly before the 18-minute film, and answered questions after the showing.

Dr. Schaefer pointed out that in support of arguments about the sometimes "lethal effects of smoking," about 50 per cent of physicians, who previously smoked, have now quit.

The seminar is part of a "Policy Formulation in American Higher Education" which began and will end in Honolulu, where the East-West Center is the host.

The Vietnamese educators will be escorted by various staff members from Stevens Point. Dr. David L. Coker, Dr. Burdette Eagon and William Vickert are serving as coordinators for the seminar which has as its purpose:

Senate War Critics Hesitate To Attack Blue Ribbon Group

Both Former Presidents Back Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of U.S. policies in Vietnam show no inclination to tangle with a newly formed, blue ribbon committee supporting those policies.

The organization includes former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman and other prominent names in both parties.

Senators opposing the administration on Vietnam said variously they weren't the type of dissenters the committee was aiming at, that they share its concern for U.S. fighting men in Vietnam or that they did not want to discuss publicly the new organization's goals.

Peace With Freedom
Formation of the Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam was announced Wednesday at a news conference by five-star Gen. Omar N. Bradley and former Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas of Illinois.

A policy declaration of the new committee said: "We strongly support our commitment in Vietnam and the policy of noncompromising, although limited, resistance to aggression."

The organization set its objective as making sure "Peking and Hanoi will not mistake the strident voices of some dissenters for American discouragement."

U.S. Cities Lack Individuality, Architect Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American cities, says a professor of architecture, are becoming look-alikes—so devoid of character they're nonplaces. "If you were suddenly set down in any one of a dozen major cities," Eric Pawley of the University of Southern California told an interviewer, "You would have a difficult time determining where you were. TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Guns and drums boomed and planes bombed Tehran with roses today as the Shah of Iran set a jeweled crown on his head and named himself King of Kings and Light of the Aryans.

It was the longest delayed coronation in history. Mohammed Reza Pahlavi had ruled for 26 years but delayed his coronation until his 48th birthday, after his campaign to modernize Iran was firmly established and after he had an heir.

The shah crowned himself, then rose from the fabled Peacock Throne and placed a crown on the head of his kneeling third wife, Empress Farah, 20 years his junior. She was the first woman ever crowned in Iran's 2,513 years as a monarchy.

Iran, which has been transformed into the fastest developing and most stable nation in the Middle East by the Shah's revolution, erupted in a fervor of celebrations.

By donning the Pahlavi crown with its 3,755 jewels and the pearl-embroidered coronation cape, the son of a semiliterate Cossack officer named himself heir to Cyrus the Great, the Persian emperor who ruled the civilized world 25 centuries ago

Rite Delayed 26 Years

Iran Jubilant at Coronation

before the Roman Empire was born.

The Pahlavi dynasty dates back only to 1926, when the Shah's father—an officer in the Persian Army, led a military coup, seized the throne and crowned himself Reza Shah the Great.

Reza Shah's son came to power in 1941 when British and Russian troops occupied the country and deposed the father for allegedly being pro-German. But the son refused to be crowned for more than two decades because "there is no pride in being the king of a poor people" and also because his first two wives failed to give him an heir.

Stand at Side

Today the 6-year-old son of the shah and Empress Farah stood at their side. Crown Prince Reza. And throughout the country were new signs of wealth from the royal revolution which has ended Iran's feudal system of landholding and noored much of its oil wealth back into modernization of the country.

The coronation chamber, 57 yards long, glittered like a giant diamond beneath five chandeliers of crystal. About 500 diplomats and Iranian dignitaries backed the room on gray-unholstered benches, while a crowd of 5,500 waited in a grandstand in the courtyard of the palace.

Empress Farah followed her son, wearing a Dior gown of white Swiss silk and an emerald necklace. Six ladies in waiting walked behind.

The shah followed three minutes later, led by commanders of the Army, Navy and Air Force and wearing a blue uniform heavy with gold braid, epaulettes and medals. His gray-head was bare.

The ruler crowned himself nine minutes later to the accompaniment of blessings from the Koran and more bugle fanfares. "Now that I crown myself Shahanshah of Iran I seek the Almighty's help to give me strength and the ability to continue serving my country," the shah declared.

Speaking from the seven-foot-high Peacock Throne—with its grinning cat of jewels, its gold serpents and 26,733 gems—the shah proclaimed: "My only aim is to further the progress and glory of my nation. I have no wish other than to preserve the independence of my country and to lead Iran to become the most progressive country in the world, and to resurrect its ancient glory and grandeur."

Rights Filibuster Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of a filibuster now hangs over a civil rights bill the administration jammed through the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday.

The measure provides stiff criminal penalties for using force or threats to interfere with the right of Negroes to vote, attend public schools, serve on juries, use public accommodations or engage in other specifically enumerated activities.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said in an interview that if the bill is brought up for Senate action "there will be a filibuster against it."

Dirksen Certain
"You can be sure of that," he said, adding "it won't be my doing."

Dirksen said getting the Senate involved in legislation so controversial would complicate efforts to adjourn.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said in a separate interview he anticipates the civil rights bill will be brought up for Senate action this year.

Protection For All

Mansfield said before making a definite scheduling decision he will look into the possibility of a filibuster. Southern senators often have filibustered against civil rights bills. Shutting them of requires approval of two-thirds of the senators voting.

Dirksen a Judiciary Committee member, supported Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr.'s proposed substitute for the administration's civil rights bill, which would provide protection for all citizens against the use of force or intimidation to interfere with their exercise of federally guaranteed rights.

Ervin said he opposed the government's providing protection only to those whose rights are interfered with because of race, color, religion or national origin.

The Judiciary Committee adopted the administration bill over Ervin's substitutes and amendments in a series of 8-7 votes.

On hand to supply the winning margin was Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., after the White House arranged for a military transport to bring him from England in time for the vote.

The House passed a similar bill Aug. 16, 326 to 93.

Winnebago Might Close Sunny View

Patients Could be Transferred to Riverview in Outagamie County

OSHKOSH — A proposal to duplicate a facility less than one mile away.

Sunny View Sanatorium is jointly operated by Winnebago and Fond du Lac Counties with cost sharing based on the equalized valuations of the two counties. Winnebago County pays slightly more than 63 percent of the cost.

Average patient load in the tuberculosis section of the sanatorium during the year was less than 20. There are currently sixteen TB patients at Sunny View, eight from Winnebago County, four from Fond du Lac County and four from other counties. The population in the chronically ill section of the institution is about 30, with that section considered to be financially self-sustaining.

Per capita cost in the tuberculosis section increased from $126.25 per week for the 1966 fiscal year to $157.30 for this year and from $86.14 to $104.99 in the chronically ill section. Anticipated expenditures for the Sunny View board of trustees, TB section for 1968 are $64,488. The proposal would call for the shift of the patients to the Outagamie County Riverview Sanatorium where the per capita cost is $118.35 per week. The chronically ill patients would be transferred to Pleasant Acres Home.

Previous to Engler's proposal, Lloyd Buehler, president of the Sunny View board of trustees, had said that if the time came that it was no longer economical to operate the sanatorium, the trustees would recommend its closing. However, he added, the time is not here.

Supv. Oliver Thomsen, Neenah, a member of the Institutions Committee, said they have been giving thought to the possibility of locating a TB out-patient clinic either in the new Pleasant Acres Home, or some other facility, if Sunny View is closed. He also noted that some equipment would probably have to be replaced soon at Sunny View.

Referring to the section of Sunny View used for the care of the chronically ill, Thomsen said, "It does not make sense to

Police Help Man Found In Coma

The alertness of an unidentified citizen and two Appleton policemen probably helped save the life of a young diabetic who went into a coma in his parked car in the 300 block of W. College Avenue Wednesday night.

Patrolman Donald Van Stippen said an unknown person stopped him about 7:40 p.m. Wednesday and said that a man had been slumped over the steering wheel of his parked car for some time.

Van Stippen found that the 24-year-old man, who is from Menasha, was in his car with the lights on and motor running. Van Stippen could get no answer from the man who appeared to be semi-conscious. The man did not reply to Van Stippen's questions.

Falls from Cot
The patrolman brought the man to the police station and, with help, placed him on a cell cot in an attempt to make him comfortable. The man fell off the cot, and still did not respond to questioning.

It was then that police thought it was possible the man may be diabetic, although Sgt. Earl Jackson could find no tag commonly worn by diabetics to warn of such a condition.

Police learned the man's name, through identification he was carrying, and notified his wife, who said her husband was diabetic and had been treated earlier this year.

Police then called an ambulance, and the man was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital. He reportedly was released from the hospital today.

Police were told that the man had come to Appleton to attend a movie. He reportedly had just started going into the coma when he was discovered.

Surplus Aids 1968 Budget In Calumet

$100,000 Reserve Drops Tax Levy To $681,685 Total

CHILTON — Faced with unforeseen expenditures while still vowing to keep the county tax rate in line, the Calumet County board Wednesday applied an additional $25,000 in uncommitted funds against the 1968 tax levy.

Originally the budget draft called for $75,000 in surplus funds to reduce the levy, but when expenditures mounted, the board boosted the figure to $100,000 before adopting a $1,332,305 budget for 1968. The first budget draft called for county and state expenditures to total $1,316,588. The final total is $245,984 more than the current year's spending program.

Before applying the surplus funds, a tax levy of $781,685 would have been required. Now reduced to $681,685, the levy will require a rate of $4.14 per $1,000 of equalized valuation. This year's levy, $114,202 less than the 1968 total, required a rate of $3.65. The rate increase for 1968 amount, to 48 cents per $1,000 equalized valuation.

Charities and corrections show the largest expenditure increase with $505,898, up $171,007. Medical aids are $78,120, up $52,672 and aid to dependent child, $59,025, up $21,275. Also taking a sharp increase were the special charges due to a new charge-back formula used by the state. This totaled $103,615, an increase of $64,964. These charges are for patients in penal and charitable institutions. However, in 1969 this will be cut considerably according to the State Department of Audit.

Other increased expenditures are general government, $161,870, up $15,284 and protection of persons and property $126,752, up $17,877; the largest increase in this category is $8,830 which includes part-time investigator salary and car allowance in the sheriff's department.

Health is $17,911.55, down $4,674; education and recreation $120,270, up $2,270. This increase includes a $4,000 appropriation to the Day Care Center. Conservation and Development is $23,000, up $8,650; other expenses $48,700, up $6,200, and county highways $295,002, up $36,573. Estimated revenues, other than direct taxes total $550,620 an increase of $115,782.

Menasha Ready For Development, Planner Declares

MENASHA — The city's master planners have declared that officials are fully armed to launch a campaign immediately for new downtown commercial development.

But he has also warned that present plans for the Tri-County Expressway where it would pass north of Ninth Street should be changed to eliminate serious conflict with downtown revival and industrial development plans.

Jerry Pollak, of Victor Gruen Associates, told the Menasha Redevelopment Authority this morning that information already given the MRA and city officials by Gruen and economic experts is all that is needed to start the campaign.

"Now you are ready to approach a developer," declared Pollak.

The bulk of the meeting concerned procedures to be followed in bringing developers into the city.

At the same time, Pollak spoke strongly in favor of

Committee Votes Stricter Licensing for Bartenders Is Upheld

Should a young man with a history of several arrests on traffic and other charges — but none during the past year — be issued a bartender's license?

The city council's welfare-ordinance committee said "no," Wednesday night on a 3-2 vote.

And it prompted Ald. William Errington (15th) to tighten his position that he will not vote to authorize licenses unless the applicants are of good moral character as prescribed by law.

A Privilege

"A license is a privilege and not a right," Errington declared. "It is our responsibility to see they do not get into the hands of just anyone who wants them."

Ald. Orville Strutz (17th) and Richard Huisman (1st), committee chairman, said the applicant had a clear record for the past year and felt he deserved a chance now. "I'm willing to go on the recommendation of the police chief on these matters," Huisman said. Police apparently did not recommend against issuance.

It was disclosed the applicant is presently tending bar in a nearby town on a part-time basis.

Another Year
"Let the applicant stay out of trouble for another year and then come to this committee for consideration," Errington said.

"There are many other jobs available and I don't see why this individual should have to be tending bar," Errington added.

Strutz felt the young man deserved another chance, and Errington agreed, but said it should be a year from now.

"I have said it before and will say it again. This committee downtown revitalization project should go on record and let the and Fox Valley Council of public know we intend to have a Governments proposals for the light licensing policy," Errington said.

Bill Passed by Assembly to Limit 'Secrecy'

Measure Aimed at Mail Balloting of State Commission

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — An oblique evasion of the state's governmental anti-secrecy law sometimes employed by the powerful State Building Commission would be outlawed under a bill passed overwhelmingly by the state Assembly Tuesday.

Authors of the measure to prohibit mail balloting by members of the commission are Speaker Harold Froehlich of Appleton and Assemblymen Kenneth Merkel of Waukesha County.

The building commission consists of six members of the Legislature, representing both houses, the governor, and one of his staff members.

Huge Resources
It controls multi-million dollar appropriations from the Legislature which is used as "seed money" for the floating of huge bond issues for state institution construction purposes through so-called "dummy corporations" officered by commission members. Current long-range debt of such corporations is around $400 million.

The bill approved by the lower house would require each member of the commission to be present at a meeting in order to vote and would prohibit balloting by mail.

Merkel and Froehlich have been critical of the commission.

Opposes UW Site
Froehlich is a leader of the objectors to the commission's selection of a site on the northeast side of Green Bay as the campus for the new north-eastern Wisconsin branch campus of the University of Wisconsin.

Merkel is a consistent and militant critic of big spending northeast side of Green Bay as the campus for the new north-eastern Wisconsin branch campus of the University of Wisconsin.

Merkel is a consistent and militant critic of big spending. He complained Wednesday that the commission has repeatedly employed mail ballots to authorize big projects, one of them involving expenditure of $21 million.

Such proceedings are indirect violations of the state law that requires public business to be conducted in open meetings, he said.

Bill Proposes State Help in District Attorney Salaries

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The recruitment of district attorneys, increasingly difficult in many localities recently may improve if the Legislature accepts a plan for state participation in paying the county prosecutors as offered by one of the most influential men in the Legislature.

Sen. Walter Hollander of Rosendale, chairman of the Legislative Joint Finance Committee, also proposes that the cost of such a state subsidy be borne by a revision of court fees and charges, including the levying of a two dollar charge on defendants in court actions.

L. L. Walker Will Head Home Center

Laurence L. Walker, 26, has been appointed department manager of the new Treasure Island Home Center at the intersection of W. College and S. Bluemond Drive, according to Howard Kornfield, Treasure Island store manager.

Walker started with Treasure

Island, a division of the J. C. Penney Co., in his hometown of Madison in July, 1962. His initial assignment was in the housewares department, of which he was promoted to manager in 1963. He also managed the domestic department. Prior to joining Treasure Island he was employed by the Shoe Corporation of America.

Walker is married to the former Anne Marie Mundi, also of Madison. The couple has three children and reside at 640 Paris Street, Menasha.

Woman Becomes Ill, Is Taken to Hospital

Mrs. Joseph Jackels, 905 N. Durkee St., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by the Appleton Fire Department rescue squad about 8:40 a.m. Wednesday after she became ill at her home.

Simon said present employees will be retained and he anticipated no production changes.

Hollander would classify counties by size and authorize supplementary state payments for the salaries of prosecutors on the basis of the size of his district and according to whether the county permits him to carry on a private practice of law in addition to his prosecuting duties.

In those counties where the district attorney is required to work full-time in his public office, he would be paid a salary equal to that authorized for the highest paid county judge, as a minimum.

In districts where part-time private practice is permitted, the state would provide $5,400 a year as a contribution to the prosecutor's salary, and the minimum of $3,600 a year where the population is less than 10,000. Such payments would be graduated upward according to population to a minimum county contribution of $9,600 a year in counties having 100,000 or more population.

The state would also provide a subsidy of $3,600 a year to the counties to assist in paying the salaries of each full-time deputy or assistant district attorney.

New 3-County Group Needs Reorganization

Only 7 Communities Attend Development Association Meeting

MENASHA — A major re-grouping effort faces the newly-created tri-county development association. Only seven of 20 communities were represented at the organizational meeting Wednesday night.

The businessman's group, which was enthusiastically received by leaders in Winnebago, Outagamie and Calumet counties when the idea was introduced five months ago, suffered from absenteeism at the first official session.

Municipalities which had voting members at the meeting were Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna, Winnebago, Sherwood, Shiocton and Hilbert. Oshkosh, the second largest city in the area, was not represented.

Hurt by Merger
The tri-county unit, which one member believed was hurting from the ill-fated tri-county merger proposal of Assemblymen Harold Froehlich, R., Appleton, and David O. Martin, R-Neenah, was created to promote communication and a Kaukauna, will meet next month united voice among the various business communities.

William Schlopman, representing Winnebago, said the group named to handle studies of should spell out its designs to recreation and tourism, industry the missing communities since manpower and transportation confusion had resulted from the political and economic tri-county movements.

Marijuana Trial Set In Outagamie

was made, Miss Horn again went to the police department and two detectives came to Mr. Roberts and arrested Mrs. Schultz.

Under cross-examination, Miss Horn said she was not "familiar" with marijuana, and had never seen it before. She said she had told Mrs. Schultz "she knew someone who was selling it." Mrs. Schultz's attorney attempted to have all Miss Horn's testimony stricken from the record because he maintained all of what she had done was "obviously part of an entrapment," which he said is not permitted. Judge Dohr over-ruled him.

The only other witness called by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer was Detective Richard Jirschele, who told of interviewing Miss Horn. He also said that after arresting Mrs. Schultz the night of Sept. 30, a search warrant was obtained and a search was made of the woman's 1960 auto that had been parked near the Appleton tavern. What appeared to be a home-made cigarette was found, wrapped in tinfoil, under the front seat.

Lab Report
Jirschele said he took the two cigarette butts and the one found under the seat to the State Crime Laboratory which determined that they contained marijuana. The crime lab finding was contained in a certified report that was submitted into the court record, over strong objections by Mrs. Schultz's attorney.

The attorney demanded that the crime laboratory chemist be present in court for cross-examination.

The attorney tried unsuccessfully for dismissal of proceedings on grounds that the cigarette obtained from the auto could not be linked with Mrs. Schultz because she "had no control over her car while it was parked on the street and she was in the police station," and other evidence (two cigarette butts) were taken by Miss Horn "under entrapment."

Luther's Great work of the Reformation may be summed up in these words: Luther restored the message of the Christian Church in its original truth and purity. Luther did not wish to abolish the outward forms of Christian worship, nor did he want to start a new church; he wished to cleanse the church of its false doctrine. His two great principles were: 1. Sola Scriptura — "The Bible Alone," and 2. Sola Gratia — "alone by grace" are we saved through faith in Jesus Christ.

Don Knotts Special Is Worthwhile

BY TV SCOUT

7-8 (Channels 2-7-12) — A visual and vocal album of humorous scenes of the fictional past is one of many highlights on The Don Knotts Special. With guest Andy Griffith. Don relives such incidents as his high school graduation when he agonizingly spoke on "Facing the Future Without Fear." Other highspots are lovely and leggy Juliet Prowse singing "Baubles, Bangles and Beads," pianist Roger Williams' rendition of "Cuma-na," and Don and Andy singing "Give Me the Simple Life." There is also a wonderful group of 17 young people who call themselves The Kids Next Door. (C)

9-9:30 (Channels 11-9) — Fire- works can be expected on tonight's Good Company when F. Lee Bailey visits Jack Paar. It is particularly significant that Paar will not be at home, but

"Skiing Is," the Newest Film by ski-cinematogra- pher Jim Farnsworth coming to Appleton High School- West Wednesday, Nov. 1, is a well-rounded movie. It covers ski areas from Alta, Utah, to the slopes of French and Swiss Alps. Stars such as Jean-Claude Killy will be seen in action on the Cannon Mountain slope, Art Furrer at Bolton Valley and Simon Biner at Zermatt. One sequence even shows Robert McNamara, U.S. Secretary of Defense, trying his skis on the Matterhorn and Lowell Thomas in action at Alta. Movie time for the one-night show is 8 p.m. Farnsworth will be here in person to narrate the movie.

has invited the show to his offices in Poland Springs, Maine. You can expect to hear some candid and choice words on both the television industry and several of its major personalities, particularly Ed Sullivan. (C)

6:30-7 (Channels 2-7-12) — Television's most engaging little people make a welcome repeat appearance on It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown. Once again, Charles M. Schulz' funny, warm and human Peanuts char- acters have a message of faith and hope amid delightful vignettes of youngsters trick or treating and going to a Hallo- ween party. (C)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 5) — If you have the Halloween spirit, be sure to watch an old-fashioned ghost story on Daniel Boone. It's so old-fashioned it's totally pre- dictable, but it's still lots of fun and suitably scary. (C)

7-7:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Flying Nun becomes involved with a mink-coated, jewel-laden dum-dum when the girl slows away in their station wagon to escape her boy friend. (C)

7:30-8 (Channels 11-6-9) — Bewitched always manages to come up with an amusing Halloween story. The Stephens family plans a normal, mortal Halloween, with trick or treating the prime goal. But little Tabatha uses some "wishcraft" and makes a gremlin, a goblin and a Jack O'Lantern jump out of the pages of a book to be her companions. (C)

7:30-8:30 (Channels 4-5) — Ironside's associate, Don Gallo- way, refuses to accept a verdict of accidental electrocution, and his suspicions get Raymond Burr into a puzzler involving a series of numbers scratched on the inside vase of an old, worn-out watch, and a list of people who keep getting killed. (C)

9:30-10 — Channel 11—Packer- ama this week has as guests Jim Grabowski and Donny An- derson, of the Packers, who will discuss highlights of the Giants-Packers game. (C)

9-10 (Channels 4-5) — Stay tuned all the way through The Dean Martin show for an hilari- ous climax in which Dean and guests Jonathan Winter, Donald O'Connor, and Nancy Ames do a

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Randy Paul White was arrested after police took a second look at his colorful dress Tuesday night.

Detective W. A. Groover said the arrested White, 19, of Lil- burn, Ga., on a charge of mis- use of the American flag.

The officer said White wore a vest made from a flag.

Return Promised On Dollar Bills, Money Vanishes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — At least 430 persons who answered a magazine advertisement promising 30 cent premiums on $1 silver certificates won't realize their investment—or get their dollars back.

Postal authorities said Wednesday a man who placed an ad in a national numismatics magazine with a Philadelphia hotel as a return address, skipped out with more than $50,000 in silver certificates mailed him through the ad.

George Givens, a post office inspector, said a man using the fictitious name of Charles Greene and a Stamford, Conn., address, checked into the hotel Sept. 5 and placed the ad offering to pay the premium on all silver certificates sent him by registered mail. The ad requested all mail be postmarked prior to Oct. 7.

Given said he went to the hotel on Oct. 9 and found the room empty.

The man received 430 pieces of registered mail. Given said. A warrant for his arrest was issued Wednesday by U.S. Commissioner Tully G. Leamporra.

Lights Go Out on Assembly Voting

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — To a legislator it's his vote. So, when Wisconsin assemblymen couldn't vote Wednesday, they quit.

The electronic voting machine in the Assembly stopped working Wednesday, and the Assembly adjourned until Thursday because technicians couldn't get it back to counting votes.

It marked the fifth time this session that the Assembly had to stop work because of voting machine troubles.

Burglar Blamed for Missing 'Sidewinder'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Celtics, whose long reign as champions of the National Basketball Association was terminated by Philadelphia last season, have served notice that they will be right back in the thick of things this season.
The Celtics ended St. Louis' seven-game winning streak Wednesday night, beating the Hawks 118-104. Player-coach Bill Russell, with 25 rebounds and sterling defensive play, was the big factor in Boston's third straight victory without a defeat.

The 76ers, on the other hand, aren't giving up easily. They won their fourth game without a loss, defeating New York 117-114. In other NBA games, Detroit downed Chicago 107-99, Los Angeles turned back Cincinnati 132-116 and Baltimore whipped San Diego 125-109.

In the American Basketball Association, New Jersey topped Minnesota 118-100.
Hal Greer dropped in 33 points for the 76ers, his third 30-plus night in three straight games. The Knicks led by 11 points early in the third quarter, but Philadelphia broke the game open after that.

Dave Bing scored four quick baskets late in the fourth quarter, bringing the Pistons back from a 10-point deficit. He led the scorers with 31 points and Bob Boozer had 26 for the still winless Bulls.

Los Angeles overcame a 54-53 halftime deficit against Cincinnati with a 37-point third period. Elgin Baylor of the Lakers and Oscar Robertson of the Royals shared scoring honors with 33 points each.

Baltimore hit on 50 per cent of its field goal attempts in building a 61-52 halftime edge over San Diego. Ray Scott and rookie Earl Monroe triggered the Bullets with 27 points apiece. John Block was high for the Rockets with 23.

John Austin came off the bench in the second period and helped the Americans to their first ABA victory. He scored 27 points.

Appleton West, struggling to avoid a cellar finish, faces its second consecutive title contender in rugged Fond du Lac at Einstein Field Friday afternoon.

To kick off the next-to-last weekend of Fox River Valley Conference grid play.
Across town, meanwhile, the Patriots of Appleton East, still hopeful of a .500 league mark in their first season, take to the road Saturday to meet the league's best offensive team in Sheboygan South.

League-leading Green Bay West, which barely got past Manitowoc, 14-13, in its last outing, plays host to rival Green Bay East at Lambeau Field in the conference headliner Saturday.

Oshkosh travels to Green Bay Southwest and Manitowoc invades Preble in two Friday night games to complete the schedule. Second-place Sheboygan North gets a rest for the weekend.

Versatile QB Setting Fast Pace

McKee a Little All-America Prospect

By JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Of The Post-Crescent
APPLETON (AP) — Four years ago, the top "blue chipper" among Appleton area football prospects were Bob (Rocky) Bleier and Chuck McKee.

The much-in-demand prep standouts have taken different routes to achieve collegiate stardom. Bleier chose the major-college path and became captain of Notre Dame, the nation's top-rated 1966 team.

McKee picked the small-school route—Lawrence University—where he has become the brilliant field general of Wisconsin's only unbeaten 1967 college team and a first-rank candidate for Little All-America recognition.

A roll-out artist in the tradition of UCLA's Garb Beban, McKee has accounted for 982 yards (626 passing and 356 rushing) as Lawrence has stormed to five straight wins and has taken the inside track to the school's first undisputed Midwest Conference title in 16 years.

Dominated Circuit
The 6-foot-1, 190-pound McKee, who was all-conference last year and a cinch to be picked again, has dominated the circuit as no quarterback has since Ripon College's Jack Ankerson led Ripon College to an unbeaten season in 1963. Ankerson was later drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals.

A number of professional clubs are building files on the versatile McKee. At least 20 representatives of the National Football League (including the Packers) and the American Football League have watched him in games, or practices or have requested films.

McKee, who hopes to go on to medical school after his graduation from Lawrence, indicates he would first accept the challenge of pro ball if he is drafted.

McKee's speed and natural athletic ability would permit him to fill a variety of possible temppro roles. He would be an excellent quarterback prospect for a team with a roll-out offense. He might make it as a runner (he is averaging 5.1 yards per carry). And, he has the moves to make a dangerous flanker.

McKee played flanker in one game as a sophomore (Coach Ron Roberts experimented in trying to find his best position) and Chuck caught nine passes and scored four touchdowns.

Roberts eventually moved McKee back to quarterback permanently because of his leadership qualities. The Vikings, who hadn't won a title since 1951, began their renaissance with a 5-3 record in 1965.

Last year, Lawrence was 7-1 to share the crown with Ripon and St. Olaf, as McKee scored 11 touchdowns and passed for seven and rolled up 1,510 yards.

Average Gain
Thus far, in 1967, McKee has completed 46 passes (most of them "action" throws; in 105 at an average gain of 13.6 yards per completion.

McKee has scored five times and has thrown five touchdowns passes. In addition, his punts are averaging 39 yards, and he is a break-away threat as a kickoff- and punt-returner.

After Lawrence had dispatched co-champion St. Olaf, 28-7, recently, a St. Olaf spokesman remarked, "We must concede that McKee, the all-America candidate, had a great day and gave us no reason to dispute the common opinion that he's the best football player in our conference."

Bernie Heseltin, who has been on the Lawrence athletic scene 30 years (27 of them as head grid coach), rates McKee the best quarterback the Vikings have ever had and ranks him at least even, as an all-round player, with the four Little All-Americas Lawrence has boasted. They are Claude Radtke (1949), Bruce Bigford (1951) Sal

Dutchmen Seek Solo FVCC Title in Tilt With Cadets

Game Features Rushing Duel Between Schuler, Canadeo; Lourdes at Xavier in Finale

CATHOLIC CONFERENCE
Team	W	L	TP	OP
St. John	4	0	142	68
Premontre	4	2	147	58
St. Mary	4	2	142	47
Xavier	3	3	68	45
Lourdes	1	5	57	119
Marquette	1	5	33	137
Spring	0	6	39	210

Friday's Games:
Lourdes at Xavier.
Spring at Pennington.
St. Mary at Marinette.

Saturday's Game:
Premontre at St. John.

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
"We'll have our work cut out for us, but we're going for it all," said Coach Avitus Ripp of St. John High School as he prepared his Little Chute gridders for Saturday's Fox Valley Catholic Conference encounter with Green Bay Premontre.

The Dutchmen are already assured of at least a tie for the conference crown with their 6-0 record, but need a victory over the Cadets to wrap up the solo title. The game will be played at Little Chute's American Legion Field, with kickoff slated for 2 p.m.

The other six teams in the conference wind up their season Friday night, with Oshkosh Lourdes invading Appleton Xavier for an 8 p.m. contest at Goodland Field. Fond du Lac St. Mary Springs will be at DePere Abbot Pennington and Menasha St. Mary will be at Marinette Catholic Central.

Slice of Title

The last time the Dutchmen had a slice of the FVCC title was in 1964 when the Chuters, and Xavier tied for the crown. It was back in 1959 when St. John last had a solo championship.

One of the features of the St. John-Premontre clash will be the individual battle for the league rushing laurels between "Oscar" Schuler of the Chuters and Tony Canadeo, Jr., of the Cadets.

Schuler is the current leader with 678 yards in 144 carries. Canadeo ranks second with 606 yards in 97 attempts. "Oscar's" average is 4.7 per carry while Canadeo is moving along with a brisk 6.0 average. Canadeo had been leading the league until he was stopped for 33 yards in 10 tries before re-injuring a leg in Premontre's 20-12 loss to Xavier on television last Saturday.

Full-Time Duty
However, Canadeo was running at full steam in a squad scrimmage Tuesday and is expected to see full-time duty against the Dutchmen.

Premontre has rushed for a total of 1,219 yards while St. John has amassed 1,118 on the ground. The Cadets have given spearheaded by linebacker John Cornell, who rates as one of the best in the Big Ten team on defense. St. John has allowed 597 yards rushing to opponents.

Another feature of the St. John-Premontre battle will be the expected aerial duel between Lee Weyenberg of the Dutchmen and Brian Bengtson of the Cadets. Weyenberg currently ranks second among league passers with 31 completions in 55 attempts while Bengtson is fourth with 23 completions out of 57 tries. Weyenberg's passes have gone for 603 yards, to 515 for Bengtson.

Improved Lourdes

The Xavier Hawks, out of the title picture for the first time in the school's history, face an improved team which has posted three straight victories after losing its first three conference games.

The Hawks will rule the favorite but will have to penetrate the loop's second-best defensive unit. Lourdes has climbed steadily in the defense rankings and, along with Premontre, has given up less than 1,000 yards to foes.

Paul Kraemer is the top ball carrying threat for the Knights and ranks fourth among rushers with 481 yards in 122 carries. Xavier is led by Jerry Rankin who has 440 yards in 90 carries.

Looney Put On Waivers By Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins, despite a 10 first place votes to only four lack of running backs, placed fullback Joe Don Looney on waivers Wednesday.

The controversial Looney, now in his fourth year in professional football, had trouble with both Baltimore and Detroit before joining Washington last season but has been on good behavior here.

Coach Otto Graham has kept it a secret, however, that he was not pleased with Looney's attitude, especially when he was not playing in a game. Apparently, it also did not help matters when Looney did not sign a contract this season and decided to play out his option.

This season, Looney has carried the ball 11 times for 26 yards and one touchdown. He's also caught one pass for 12 yards.

Mary Schmidt Hits 617 National Series

Ten years may seem like a long time but it was "well worth waiting for," said Mary Schmidt after she had rolled a 617 national honor count in the Women's Classic League at the 41 Bowl Wednesday night.

It has been 10 years since Mrs. Schmidt has recorded a national series and this one was particularly satisfying because she has just resumed bowling this season after a 2-year layoff.

Mary started with a 198 game last night, then socked a 233 and finished with a 186. The total was the sixth national set recorded by a woman in the Fox Cities area this season.

Best year in 1957

Mrs. Schmidt said she started bowling about 25 years ago, took time out to have three children, and had her best year in 1957. In that season she socked 13 national honor scores, including one in the state tournament.

At the present time, bowling just once a week, she is carrying a sparkling 183 average in the Classic League which she rates as "just unbelievable."

"I had a lot of luck and a lot of help last night," offered Mrs. Schmidt. "My teammates and the girls on the other team were rooting for me all the way. They were just wonderful."

share of individual honors in the Classic loop with a booming 235 game and finished with a 575 series. Joan Kolosso scored games of 212 and 202 on her way to a 579 total and Evelyn Steinacher slammed a 197 game and 562 series.

Rolls 540 Series

In the Sabre Jets League at Sabre Lanes last night, Cleone Rohloff fired a 192 game and 540 series while Ruth Smith had a 192 line and 509 series.

In the Women's National League at the 41 Bowl last night, Dee Kohl hit a 192 game and Rosemary Forster smacked a 524 series. Peg Rutten had a 500 count and Shirley Seehawer rolled 503.

The Wednesday Ladies League at the Little Chute Recreation Lanes saw Helen Koehn set the pace with a 205 game and 517 series.

Dolly Gustafson slammed a 204 singleton and Diane Arent jolted a 198 game and 512 series for top scores in the Four-for-Fun League at Hahn's Lanes Wednesday afternoon. Donna Ziegler had a 191 line.

Posts 214 Game

In Tuesday American League action at the 41 Bowl, Carole Cowan hit a 214 game and Marlene Hassel had a 518 series. Carole finished with a 512 series and other high scores included Charlotte Merholtz 197, Bernice Moore 193 and Hilda Mignon 202.

Carol Johnson's 500 series and Verone Weisler's 195 game paced the Tuesday morning Early Bird League at Sabre Lanes.

In the Tuesday afternoon Ladies League at the 41 Bowl Loretta Arnoldussen smacked a 219 game.

The Kitchen Cheaters loop at Hahn's Lanes was topped by Sally Meiers with a 195 game and Pearl Ulschig had a 190 line.

Women's Classic

Sophomore Cager Chokes on Gum, Collapses, Dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A sophomore at Westport High School collapsed and died Wednesday when he choked on chewing gum while practicing basketball.

Chief Deputy Coroner William Anderson of Jefferson County said 15-year-old Thomas Richard Vogt, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Vogt, Louisville, died after both lungs collapsed.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Anderson said Vogt choked and collapsed as he was running down court during the practice session.

Kaukauna Host for State Volleyball Test Saturday

Kaukauna High School will play host to its first state tournament — volleyball — Saturday afternoon.

In a real oddity, the 4-team cast will be the same that competed for the state title in Antigo last season. Defending champion Antigo, hostings Kaukauna, Monona Grove and West Allis Hale are the survivors of a 44-school field.

At 1 p.m., on Court No. 1 of the Kaukauna High gym, the Dave Hash-coached Ghosts will meet West Allis Hale.

Antigo takes Monona Grove at the same time.

Two games will be played in each match of the round-robin series. If there is a tie at the close of the round robin, a 1-game playoff, to 15 points, will be held.

Kaukauna won the regional title, competing against the two Appleton schools and Kimberly; then took sectional honors at Wisconsin Dells.

The admission charge for the entire session will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Prep Gridder, 17 Dies of Injuries

SUFFERN, N.Y. (AP) — Brian Armstrong, Pearl River High School football team captain, died Wednesday in Good Samaritan Hospital of head injuries suffered in last Saturday's game.

Brian, 17, a defensive backer, suffered head and skull injuries in a game against Clarkstown High in New City, N.Y.

Trio Tied for Nation's Grid Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — O. J. Simpson of Southern California, Gary Beban of UCLA and Rick Eber of Tulsa were tied for the individual scoring lead among the nation's major-college football players today.

All three scored two touchdowns last weekend, giving each 54 points, according to statistics compiled by National Collegiate Sports Services.

Eber is the sole leader in passing.

receiving. He has 43 receptions, one more than Ace Hendricks of New Mexico.

Ken Koscovich of West Virginia has scored the most points by kicking, 45, on 11 field goals and 12 conversions.

Vic Washington of Wyoming is the pace-setter in punt returns with 399 yards while Joe Casas of New Mexico heads the kickoff return list with 432 yards.

NOTES and NOTIONS

This prognosticator made a comeback of sorts last week to boost the season's average ever so slightly to .721. For the week, we had 26 right, nine wrong and three ties, for 74.3 per cent. Over-all, for 236 predictions, the mark is 160-62-14.

Packers over Cards — St. Louis has come up with a surprisingly good offense despite the loss of Charley Johnson, and its defense is always troublesome. The Packers, though, reacquired momentum with their win in New York, and if they continue to play with similar abandon, they'll trip up the Cards.

Wisconsin over Northwestern — Teams appear pretty evenly matched, but the Badgers should have gained some valuable confidence by their first non-losing stint — last weekend.

Lawrence over Knox — The fast-charging Vikes don't need help from anyone to gain their highly-coveted undisputed title, and they don't figure to let overconfidence prove a bugaboo against the winless Siwashers.

St. John over Premontre — This should be a battle royal. The Chutiers appear capable of mustering one more all-out effort (such as the ones flashed against Xavier and St. Mary) to make this "The Year of the Dutchmen" in the FVCC.

Fond du Lac over Appleton West — The Cardinals are still in the thick of the title chase and have too many guns for AHS-W. Sheboygan South over Appleton East — The redmen could be "flat" after their costly loss to Fond du Lac, but on paper, at least, they're too strong for AHS-E.

Xavier over Lourdes — The Hawks are back in the groove and appear likely to round out the season impressively against a dangerous foe.

Fox Lutheran over Northwestern — The Foxes would like nothing better than to wind up their season on a high note. It will be close, but the Foxes have the defense to stop the visiting Preps.

Neenah over Shawano — The Rockets will close out their M-E career in the same championship form they've displayed for the last six years.

Kimberly over Clintonville — The productive Trucker offense will put the squeeze on the strong Papermaker defense, but Kimberly has held firm most of the campaign.

Menasha over Kaukauna —

Both teams have been in a number of close games — and it looks as if the same kind will be in store for Friday. The Jays are a bit more explosive.

Two Rivers over New London — The Raiders have a chance for a title tie, if Neenah stumbles, so they don't figure to let up a bit.

St. Mary over Marinette — The Zephyr scoring punch will Kayo the Cavaliers who have been slipping by the week.

Other NFL games — Baltimore over Washington, Dallas over Philadelphia, San Francisco over Detroit, Los Angeles over Chicago, Minnesota over Atlanta, Pittsburgh over New Orleans, Cleveland over New York.

Other MC games — Monmouth over Grinnell, Cornell over Carleton, Coe over Ripon and St. Olaf over Beloit.

Other FRVC games — Oshkosh over Southwest, Preble over Manitowoc, Green Bay West over Green Bay East.

Little Nine Conference — Brillion over Omro, Winneconne over Shiocton, Freedom over Hortonville, Denmark over Hilbert, Wrightstown over Reedsville.

Central Wis. Conference — Waupaca over Wittenberg, Weyauwega over Marion.

Other games — Seymour over Pulaski, Bay Port over Bonduel, Chilton over New Holstein, Springs over Pennings.

2 Fox Cities Boys Advance In P-P-K

Two boys from Appleton and one from Neenah were among the six winners in the zone Punt, Pass & Kick competition held Saturday at Goodland Field.

The event, sponsored by the Appleton Recreation Department and Van Steen Ford, saw Jeff Mussett, Appleton, win the 8 year old title with a combined distance of 187 feet, and Dan Heinritz, Appleton, top the 12-year olds with a mark of 284 feet.

Robert Gilbert, Neenah, took honors among the 10-year olds. Oshkosh had two winners in Darrell Thoma (age 11, 256 feet) and John Zahalka (age 13, 394 feet), and Ripon's Mike Bock topped the 9-year old grouping with a mark of 206 feet.

Thirteen area winners participated in each age group. The top boys move to Milwaukee Saturday for district competition.

Schuler Nominated Hudson Star Gets AP Honor

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Jim Bertelsen of Hudson, who could become the object of a recruitment tug of war between Wisconsin and Minnesota, was named Wisconsin high school football "Player of the Week" Wednesday by The Associated Press.

Bertelsen, a tailback and defensive star whose exploits have already drawn 38 inquiries from colleges throughout the country, won the honor for which he was repeatedly nominated in the past after another eye-catching performance against River Falls.

The 5-foot-11, 200-pound senior scored two touchdowns, one on a 66-yard run, passed 55 yards for a third, tackled a River Falls man for a safety, kicked two extra points and killed a last drive interception to preserve a 22-21 victory.

Nothing Bertelsen does on a football field surprises his coach, Don Kadidlo, who watched Bertelsen score five touchdowns in one half of one game and intercept five passes and score four touchdowns in another game.

"I've never had anyone close to him," said the 10-year coaching veteran, "and don't expect I'll ever have another like him." Bertelsen, who is averaging 8.5 yards per carry despite an offensive line that Kadidlo calls the weakest at Hudson in four seasons, can run the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds. He placed second in the event in the Class B state meet last spring and won the low hurdles.

He is also a basketball player and a B plus student. "He's a goal-driven kid," said Kadidlo. "His goal is to make himself a name in football. He'd never tell you that but you can see it."

So can the college scouts, particularly from Minnesota, which has a powerful lure for northwestern Wisconsin athletes, and Wisconsin. The Gophers have already had Bertelsen as a guest at one of their games. Two Wisconsin recruiting missions have traveled to Hudson so far.

Brother at UW — Kadidlo said Bertelsen has an older brother already on the Badger campus and an uncle living in Madison. But, he also noted that the Gophers are not very far from Bertelsen's rural home. The coach said he had no idea whether Bertelsen would go to Woodville.

while giving up 22 TDs and 142 points. If West is in for a rough time, coach Claude Radtke's Patriots are hardly in for a picnic. South's Redmen will be smarting from a 32-12 defeat by Fond du Lac last week and still possess the loop's most consistent offense.

South has two of the best rushers in the league in Dave Boll and John Picard, each with a 4.5 yards-per-carry average. Dick Zachow, South's ace quarterback, remains second behind Jerry Tagge of Green Bay West in passing.

East, having sat out two weeks, will rely on the passing of Dick Miller and Bob Birkholz, complemented with Cliff Tierney and Tom Birk. Birkholz ranks 10th among passers with 12 completions in 39 attempts, and Tierney is in a 5-way tie for fourth in scoring with 24 points.

Craig Rusch, the Patriots standout end on both defense and offense, ranks 11th in receiving with 10 catches good for 138 yards.

Wittmann's Wins Touch Grid Title

Wittmann's (8-1) has won the title in the Appleton Recreation Department's Adult Touch Football League.

Wittmann's scored a 21-13 win over O. J. Boldt (6-2-1), while previous co-leader Zussman's Grocery (7-2) was losing, 14-7, to Bleier's (7-2).

Cards' Roland Doesn't Believe in 'Soph Jinx'

"I don't believe in that," John Hart, another second-year man, give St. Louis' surprising Cardinals a young, potent one-two punch in the backfield.

The Cardinals, 4-2 and tied for the lead in the Eastern Conference's Century Division, next face defending Super Bowl champion Green Bay in St. Louis Monday night.

"That sophomore jinx stuff is mostly mental," Roland said as he suited up for a midweek practice at Busch Stadium. "I think I've learned a great deal for 3.2 yards per try and two touchdowns."

At the same point a year ago, Roland had picked up 218 yards for 3.2 yards per try and two touchdowns. "That's the reason I'm having a better year," he explained.

McKee Candidate for Little All-American

Roberts, current Vike coach who played for the University of Wisconsin in the 1953 Rose Bowl game, says McKee compares favorably with Jim Haluska, who quarterbacked that team. Haluska was the drop-back type of passer, while McKee is more like Jim Miller (a later UW quarterback) and Minnesota's Paul Giel, according to Roberts. McKee says McKee is definitely "Big 10 caliber" and the Midwest Conference track agrees with an oft-voiced opinion that Chuck would probably be the Badgers' starting quarterback if he had accepted the UW tender that was offered. Roberts says he still takes good-

Steeler Veteran Keys Sent To Vikings After 'Mess Up'

By IRA MILLER Associated Press Sports Writer PITTSBURGH (AP) — Brady Keys, who played in the Pro Bowl last year, has been traded by the Pittsburgh Steelers after Coach Bill Austin called him the goat in two straight last-minute defeats.

Keys, a seven-year veteran, went to the Minnesota Vikings Wednesday for a pair of draft choices. Though Austin didn't say it at the time, Keys' career in Pittsburgh ended Sunday when there was no reason for him to Steelers lost to the Cowboys 24-21 in the last half-minute. A week earlier, New York beat Pittsburgh 27-24 on a 59-yard pass in the final two minutes. "Everybody played well and it's a shame one guy had to mess it up," Austin told news-men after the Dallas game. "It Austin said Wednesday night.

was the same guy two weeks in a row." He never identified Keys, a defensive back, but it wasn't necessary. Said a teammate: "We knew who he meant. We all make mistakes but with this guy it's getting to be a habit." On Monday, General Manager Dan Rooney told Keys not to bother reporting for practice any more. "We told him we were going to trade him," Rooney said. "So there was no reason for him to report."

Keys, 30, who earned a reputation in the National Football League by constantly chattering to pass receivers, has spent his entire career with the Steelers. "He knew he wasn't helping the club the way he should," men after the Dallas game. "It Austin said Wednesday night.

Koslowski's totals came in the Fox Valley Classic League at Lakewood Lanes, where four other over-600 counts were registered. Ed Schroeder's 619 took runner-up honors, followed by Jim Lucas' 615 set. "Hub" Hjelberg and Claude Thiede also topped 600 with 609 and 608 pin counts, respectively.

Gene Peerenboom topped the Kimberly Classic loop at Jerry's Lanes Wednesday night, firing a 605 trio. Frank Kroiss slammed a 595 for second place, and Bob Ribarchek hit 582 and Jerry Thiel, 581.

In Tuesday night action, Jim Nirschl thundered a 645 set to lead the American League at Jerry's Lanes in Kimberly. Reggie Ahrens put together a 617 set, along with a high 235 game, and Bill Quella hit 601. Larry Techlin's 245-604 combination paced the Industrial cir-

"Doc" Glaser walloped a 588 count for the peak effort in the Merchants League at 41 Bowl. Jim Agen was next with 581, and Gordy McFerron crashed 571.

Phipps Leads in Total Offense

Simpson Increases First-Place Margin in U. S. Rushing

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Phipps, Purdue's precocious sophomore quarterback, has taken over first place in total offense among the nation's major college football teams.

New leaders also moved up in passing—Jimmy Poole of Davidson—and in punting—Bob Coble of Kansas State—but O.J. Simpson, Southern California's great runner, increased his margin in rushing yardage.

Phipps, in five games, has piled up 1,243 yards, according to the official statistics released Tuesday by the NCAA's National Collegiate Sports Services. He replaced Terry Stone of New Mexico, last week's leader, who is second with 1,180 yards in six games.

Stone also lost his pace-setting role in passing. Poole, a 5-foot-9, 160-pound quarterback, has the most completions, 102, in 173, the unbeaten Chargers to a 38-21 runaway victory. He passed 67 yards to Lance Alworth for one touchdown, 65 yards to Dick Post for another and five yards to Willie Frazier for a third.

Over-all, Hadl connected on 15 of 34 attempts for 345 yards and moved into the No. 2 spot among AFL passing leaders. He has hit on 52.6 per cent of his passes for 13 TDs and a league-leading 1,638 yards.

Mexican Chief To Visit LBJ At White House

Two Presidents Expected to View Economic Subjects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz' three-day official visit with President Johnson is expected to feature hands-across-the-border cordiality rather than hard bargaining on mutual problems.

Diaz Ordaz, his wife and three children were flying directly from Mexico City to nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., today, there to board helicopters for the short hop to the White House and a formal 21-gun salute, red-carpet welcome.

"There are no outstanding issues for the two presidents to take up," one White House official said.

Joint Efforts

But he said Johnson and Diaz Ordaz doubtless would discuss the Alliance for Progress, moves toward Latin American economic integration, joint efforts to boost the social and economic welfare of the Rio Grande border region and, perhaps, possible construction of one or more new flood control dams along the river.

The question of new dams became more acute following last month's disastrous flooding in the Rio Grande Valley that followed the onslaught of Hurricane Beulah.

Johnson and Diaz Ordaz, long-time friends, will be seeing a good bit of each other during the next three days.

Fly to El Paso

Following the official round of ceremonies and meetings here, they will fly together Saturday morning to El Paso, Tex., for a series of three public appearances commemorating the amicable settlement of the 100-year-old Chamizal border dispute. A friction point between the two countries for many decades, the dispute arose because the Rio Grande River changed course in the El Paso area and put a slice of Mexican territory inside the legal border of the United States.

While in Washington, Diaz Ordaz will have two private meetings with Johnson, will be guest of honor at a White House state dinner, will be entertained at luncheon by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and, on Friday, will address a joint session of Congress.

Early Friday evening, Rusk and the Mexican foreign secretary, Antonio Carrillo Flores, will sign a document legally establishing the new boundary between El Paso and Ciudad Juarez, Mexico.

Diaz Ordaz and Johnson have met five times since the Mexican was elected president of his country, but this will be his first official visit to Washington.

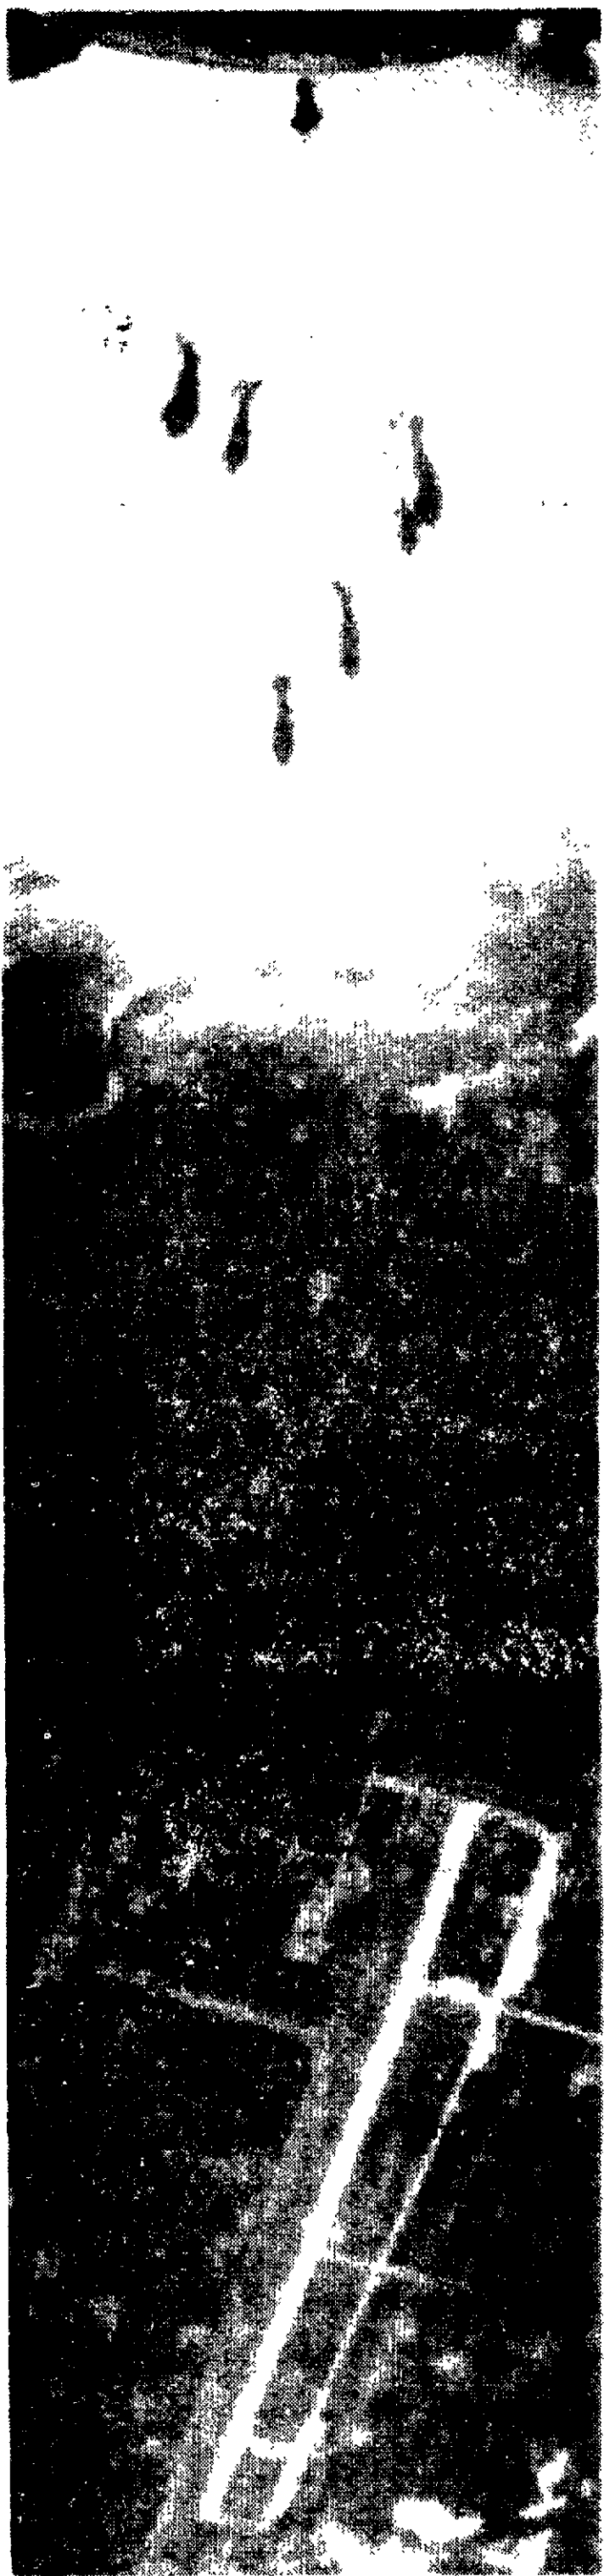

It is the first such visit here by a Mexican chief executive since former President Adolfo Lopez Mateos came in 1959.

2 Arrested For Threats On President

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two persons have been arrested by federal officers in connection with alleged threats on the life of President Johnson, who is to be in El Paso Saturday for signing of the Chamizal border treaty.

Shirley Rucker, 60, Albuquerque, N.M., was being held under $20,000 bond in Albuquerque after arraignment on a charge of threatening the President's life. U.S. Marshal Emilio Naranjo said Rucker was arrested at his home Tuesday night "while in the process of trying to telephone the White House to threaten the life of the President."

Robert Allen Moll, 29, was ordered jailed Wednesday in El Paso under $10,000 bond on the same charge after being arrested Tuesday by a deputy U.S. marshal at the office in El Paso where he is employed.

Pilots Return to Hanoi, Down MIG in Dogfight

Power Plant In Capital Is Bombed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy bombers raided an electric power plant near the heart of Hanoi today, and two pilots reported shooting down a supersonic MIG21 just south of the Communist capital.

Fliers from the carrier Oriskany bombed the power plant 11 miles north of the center of Hanoi, continuing for a third straight day intensified U.S. raids on bridges, rail yards and MIG air bases around Hanoi and Haiphong.

The U.S. command said results of the latest Hanoi raid were not yet available. But it announced earlier that 10 more MIGs were destroyed or damaged on the ground during strikes Wednesday on the Phuc Yen air base 18 miles northwest of the Communist capital.

Claims Straining

Tass, the Soviet news agency, in a dispatch from Hanoi said American planes bombed and strafed the center of the city. The dispatch said five U.S. planes were shot down and several American fliers bailed out. The U.S. Command made no announcement of any plane losses today but said three U.S. fighter-bombers were shot down Wednesday in the raids on Phuc Yen and on Hanoi's mile-long Doumer Bridge. All three pilots are missing.

The stepped-up air war in the North again overshadowed ground fighting in the South, but South Korean infantrymen and South Vietnamese militiamen reported they had 300 to 350 enemy soldiers trapped in three pockets near the South China Sea coast 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

33 Enemy Dead

Incomplete reports said 33 of the enemy had been killed so far, while Korean and Vietnamese casualties were light.

The U.S. Command announced that American casualties in the ground war rose slightly last week and were more than double the South Vietnamese casualties. U.S. forces reported 193 killed, 949 wounded and seven missing, while the South Vietnamese said theirs were 81 killed, 355 wounded and two missing. It was the second week in succession that American casualties exceeded those of the South Vietnamese.

U.S. officials said 1,227 enemy were killed last week compared with 1,562 in the previous week.

Suez Fires Brought Under Control

U.N. Won't Censure Israel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Firefighters brought the oil fires in Egypt's Suez refineries under control Wednesday night, some 40 hours after Israeli shells set them blazing in a duel with Egyptian gunners across the Suez Canal.

The U.N. Security Council reacted to the artillery duel—each side accused the other of starting—by condemning all violations of the cease-fire which ended the June Arab-Israeli war. Because it did not censure Israel as the Russians demanded, the resolution constituted a diplomatic victory for the United States.

Reports by U.N. cease-fire observers did not pinpoint responsibility for the artillery duel Tuesday.

More Observers

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant asked the Security Council to increase the number of truce observers from 43 to 90 and requested four patrol boats and four small helicopters for them.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahran reported the fires under control at the Nasr and Suez refinery complexes, which filled nearly three-fourths of Egypt's domestic petroleum needs. But the flames were not expected to be out until some time today. Egyptian officials reported eight civilians and eight military men killed in the shelling and 60 civilians and 32 military men wounded.

Al Ahran said 17 storage tanks were set on fire but gave no further details on damage. It said no shortages were anticipated in the supply of such vital commodities as kerosene, benzene and bottle gas, but measures were being prepared to "prevent distribution" should the need arise.

Gov. Hamed Mahmoud of Suez told visiting newsmen the damage was extensive.

"Destroyed Factory"
The enemy completely destroyed an asphalt factory, benzene and solar tanks and a whole line of the newspaper said. "Only crude oil tanks in the southern region survived this savage blow."

Mahmoud also said some shells hit houses, schools and

Al Ahran also reported that several ships of the Soviet fleet in the Mediterranean would arrive today at Port Said, at the northern end of the Suez Canal, for a "friendly visit."

A number of Soviet warships visited Port Said in the tense weeks after the June war but despite the Kremlin's support of the Arabs took no action against Israeli forces in the adjacent Sinai Desert.

At the United Nations, the Soviet Union had asked for a resolution condemning Israel and demanding reparations for damage caused by its guns. A U.S. resolution condemned all violations of the cease-fire and insisted on observance of the truce.

The 10 nonpermanent members of the 15-nation Security Council worked out a compromise condemning cease-fire violations and expressing regret over casualties and property damage. It was approved unanimously.

The resolution appealed to both Israel and the Arab states to "cease immediately all prohibited military activities in the area and to cooperate fully and promptly" with U.N. peace observers.

Permanent Solution
The compromise sidestepped any action that might be construed as a move toward a permanent settlement, such as authorizing Thant to name a special representative to seek a peaceful solution of the issues left by the June war. Council members have been trying for weeks to find a permanent solution. They have concentrated on a statement of basic principles, such as Israeli withdrawal from captured Arab soil and an end to the Arab state of belligerency toward Israel.

If these principles are ever agreed on, the sponsors would propose sending a special representative to the Middle East to try to see that they are carried out.

Living Costs Rise, But Only Slightly
WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose two-tenths of one per cent in September, the smallest increase in six months, but a government spokesman said today that price hikes are accelerating and "corroborate the need for a tax increase."

Grocery prices dropped nine-tenths of 1 per cent in September, but higher costs of housing, clothing, transportation and medical care added up to the over-all boost in living costs, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

"If food prices had not declined, the consumer price index would have gone up four-tenths of 1 per cent," said Commissioner Arthur M. Ross, trying for weeks to find a per-

He said the fact "that we have emerged from our isolation and our self-sufficiency to seek the solid ground on which the indivisible church is founded shows the truth that what unites us is much more than what divides us."

The vast basilica echoed with applause as the Pope and patriarch, standing before the main altar, embraced again and again.

Then leading Catholic cardinals came to the patriarch to exchange the kiss of peace with him.

Before the religious service began Pope Paul and Athenagoras embraced at the doors to St. Peter's.

Third Meeting
The visit of the bearded 81-year-old patriarch to the Pope—their third meeting—was expected to accelerate contact between their churches. Athenagoras came to Rome to repay the visit the Pope made to him in Istanbul last July. They met first in January, 1964, in Jerusalem, when Pope Paul made his first trip outside Italy by a modern pontiff.

The Orthodox Church, with 150 million members, is closer in doctrine and spirit to the 500-million-member Roman Catholic Church than any other Christian faith. Because of this, the growing rapport between the Pope and the patriarch is expected to produce the most fruitful developments in the drive to reunite the world's Christian churches.

Prayers at Vatican City
Pope, Patriarch Step Toward Reunion

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI and Patriarch Athenagoras prayed side by side in St. Peter's Basilica today, repeatedly embraced in the kiss of peace and pledged unceasing efforts to reunite Christianity.

Never in the history of the two churches had such a meeting occurred—the leader of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics and the head of the 150 million Orthodox praying together inside the largest church in Christendom.

It was the first visit by a leader of Orthodoxy since the Church split apart in 1054. It marked a giant step toward future reunion.

"That We Be One"
Before cardinals, Orthodox metropolitans and the 209 bishops from around the world here for the Vatican synod, Pope and patriarch vowed anew to do all in their power to make reunion a reality some day.

In a speech to the patriarch, Pope Paul declared God "demands with greater insistence than ever that we be one that the world may believe."

The Pope said the renewal going on in the Catholic Church "is in fact the most fundamental prerequisite for our drawing closer to one another."

He added: "If in our efforts for renewal we see a sign of the action of the Spirit urging us on to re-establish full communion with one another and preparing us for it does not the contemporary world, filled with unbelief

Insecticides Blamed As 7 Children Die

ARCADIA, Fla. (AP) — The report as yet. The deaths are last of James and Annie Mac still under investigation, only Richardson's seven children through extreme carelessness died today—poisoned by an agricultural insecticide.

Pathologist Millard White of Diane, 3, died at 5:30 a.m., Sarasota, who performed autopsies on six of the dead children, brothers and sisters died, one-by-one.

"If I could only have my children back," Richardson said Wednesday night. "I don't understand how it all happened so fast."

By 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, six of the children, who ate a lunch of rice and beans flavored with pieces of hog's head, were dead.

DeSoto County Sheriff Frank Cline said the children's parents insisted there was no poison in the crowded, four-room apartment where the family lived.

"Extreme Carelessness"
"We're analyzing the food to see if it contained any traces of poison," the sheriff said today, "but we haven't received any

Senate War Critics Hesitate To Attack Blue Ribbon Group

Both Former Presidents Back Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of U.S. policies in Vietnam show no inclination to tangle with a newly formed, blue ribbon committee supporting those policies.

The organization includes former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman and other prominent names in both parties.

Senators opposing the administration on Vietnam said variously they weren't the type of dissenters the committee was aiming at, that they share its concern for U.S. fighting men in Vietnam or that they did not want to discuss publicly the new organization's goals.

Peace With Freedom

Formation of the Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam was announced Wednesday at a news conference by five-star Gen. Omar N. Bradley and former Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas of Illinois.

A policy declaration of the new committee said. "We strongly support our commitment in Vietnam and the policy of noncompromising, although limited resistance to aggression."

The organization set its objective as making sure "Peking and Hanoi will not mistake the strident voices of some dissenters for American discouragement."

Lincoln Letter Sold for $6,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The last letter Abraham Lincoln wrote, a message to the commissioner of Indian affairs, brought $6,000 Wednesday night at an auction of Lincolniana that sold for a total of $145,307.

Other than a brief note to Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, the letter was the only one Lincoln wrote on the day of his assassination. It was sold to the Lincoln Bookshop, of Chicago which also bought Lincoln's seal for $12,000.

The collection belonged to Justin G. Turner, a Los Angeles real estate man. The sale was conducted by the Charles Hamilton Galleries.

U. S. Cities Lack Individuality, Architect Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American cities, says a professor of architecture, are becoming look-alikes—so devoid of character they're nonplaces. "If you were suddenly set down in any one of a dozen major cities," Eric Pawley of the University of Southern California told an interviewer, "You would have a difficult time determining where you were. You might be in Los Angeles' West Side, Chicago's North Shore, Boston's Boylston Street."

What's the answer? Bring all of a community's resources together to solve its problems—"even the problem of making a place into a place people will remember."

Rights Filibuster Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of a filibuster now hangs over a civil rights bill the administration jammed through the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday.

The measure provides stiff criminal penalties for using force or threats to interfere with the right of Negroes to vote, attend public schools, serve on juries, use public accommodations or engage in other specifically enumerated activities.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said in an interview that if the bill is brought up for Senate action "there will be a filibuster against it."

Dirksen Certain

"You can be sure of that," he said, adding "it won't be my doing."

Dirksen said getting the Senate involved in legislation so controversial would complicate efforts to adjourn.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said in a separate interview he anticipates the civil rights bill will be brought up for Senate action this year.

Protection For All

Mansfield said before making a definite scheduling decision he will look into the possibility of a filibuster. Southern senators often have filibustered against civil rights bills. Shutting them off requires approval of two-thirds of the senators voting.

On hand to supply the winning margin was Sen. Hugh Scott, Sam J. Ervin Jr.'s proposed R-Pa., after the White House substituted for the administration's civil rights bill, which would provide protection for all citizens against the use of force or intimidation to interfere with their exercise of federally guaranteed rights.

Ervin said he opposed the government's providing protection only to those whose rights are interfered with because of race, color, religion or national origin.

The Judiciary Committee adopted the administration bill over Ervin's substitutes and amendments in a series of 8-7 votes.

Rite Delayed 26 Years

Iran Jubilant at Coronation

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Guns and drums boomed and planes bombed Tehran with roses today as the Shah of Iran set a jeweled crown on his head and named himself King of Kings and Light of the Aryans.

It was the longest delayed coronation in history. Mohammed Reza Pahlavi had ruled for 26 years but delayed his coronation until his 48th birthday, after his campaign to modernize Iran was firmly established and after he had an heir.

The shah crowned himself, then rose from the fabled Peacock Throne and placed a crown on the head of his kneeling third wife, Empress Farah, 20 years his junior. She was the first woman ever crowned in Iran's 2,513 years as a monarchy.

Iran, which has been transformed into the fastest developing and most stable nation in the Middle East by the Shah's revolution, erupted in a fervor of celebrations.

By donning the Pahlavi crown with its 3,755 jewels and the pearl-embroidered coronation cape, the son of a semiliterate Cossack officer named himself heir to Cyrus the Great, the Persian emperor who ruled the civilized world 25 centuries ago before the Roman Empire was born.

The Pahlavi dynasty dates back only to 1928, when the Shah's father—an officer in the Persian Army, led a military coup, seized the throne and crowned himself Reza Shah the Great.

Reza Shah's son came to power in 1941 when British and Russian troops occupied the country and deposed the father for allegedly being pro-German. But the son refused to be crowned for more than two decades because "there is no pride in being the king of a poor people" and also because his first two wives failed to give him an heir.

Stand at Side

Today the 6-year-old son of the shah and Empress Farah stood at their side, Crown Prince Reza. And throughout the country were new signs of wealth from the royal revolution which has ended Iran's feudal system of landholding and poured much of its oil wealth back into modernization of the country.

The coronation chamber, 57-yards long, glittered like a giant diamond beneath five chandeliers of crystal. About 500 diplomats and Iranian dignitaries packed the room on gray-velveted benches, while a crowd of 5,500 waited in a grandstand in the courtyard of the palace.

Empress Farah followed her son, wearing a Dior gown of white Swiss silk and an emerald necklace. Six ladies in waiting walked behind.

The shah followed three minutes later, led by commanders of the Army, Navy and Air Force and wearing a blue uniform heavy with gold braid, epaulets and medals. His gray-head was bare.

The ruler crowned himself nine minutes later to the accompaniment of blessings from the Koran and more bugle fanfares.

"Now that I crown myself Shahanshah of Iran I seek the Almighty's help to give me strength and the ability to continue serving my country," the shah declared.

Speaking from the seven-foot-high Peacock Throne—with its grinning cat of jewels, its gold serpents and 26,733 gems—the shah proclaimed: "My only aim is to further the progress and glory of my nation. I have no wish other than to preserve the independence of my country and to lead Iran to become the most progressive country in the world, and to resurrect its ancient glory and grandeur."

"In this I will not hesitate to sacrifice my life."

Bottom Draft Age Lowered In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu lowered South Vietnam's minimum draft age from 21 to 18 and ordered deferments from the military service tightened in a decree of "partial mobilization" made public today.

The maximum draft age of 34 was retained.

The decree, which will go into effect Jan. 1, also made technicians 34 to 45 years old subject to the draft. Deferments for education, religious reasons, foreign travel, profession and civil service will be tightened, the decree said.

Deferments for reasons of health and for service in the police force or in rural cadres will continue as before. The partial mobilization will also affect veterans of previous service who are still within the draft age.

After the decree goes into effect, draftees will be called up by age groups until the requirements are met. The government has announced that 60,000 men are to be put into uniform, most of them as members of the militia.

Ethics Committee Finds No Fault In Doings of Missouri's Sen. Long

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate ethics committee says it finds no facts to support misconduct accusations against Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo.

The panel now plans to push forward with its efforts to develop a code of standards and conduct for senators and Senate employees.

The bipartisan committee's work on a code has twice been interrupted, first by its investigation into misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and then by its inquiry into the affairs of Long.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said despite the delays the committee may submit a code for Senate action before Congress adjourns this year.

Magazine Charges

The committee's report Wednesday to the Senate on its closed inquiry into Life magazine allegations against Long said it found no basis for conducting public hearings.

Long said he regarded the ethic panel's unanimous report as a complete vindication. He clients were involved in the Long never denied receiving money from Shenker. But he said it represented fee splitting in connection with legal services having nothing to do either with the Hoffa or the Teamsters.

The committee said five clients were involved in the Shenker-Long payments, and integrity had been questioned for the first time in his career and the report had lifted a great burden.

The May 26 Life article said that in 1963 and 1964 Long had received $48,000 in legal fees from Morris A. Shenker, a St. Louis attorney for imprisoned Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa. The magazine suggested Long misused a Senate probe of wiretapping—which he headed—in an effort to keep Hoffa out of jail.

Hoffa Defense

Hoffa has based attempts to overturn his conviction for jury tampering for the most part on grounds evidence against him was gained through illegal wiretapping.

The report was signed by all six committee members.

Calumet Applies Surplus Funds to Reduce Tax Levy

CHILTON — Faced with unforeseen expenditures while still vowing to keep the county tax rate in line, the Calumet County board Wednesday applied an additional $25,000 in unincumbered funds against the 1968 tax levy.

Originally the budget draft called for $75,000 in surplus funds to reduce the levy, but when expenditures mounted, the board boosted the figure to $100,000 before adopting a $1,332,305 budget for 1968. The first budget draft called for county and state expenditures to total $1,316,388. The final total is $1,341,388 more than the current year's spending program.

Before applying the surplus funds, a tax levy of $781,685 would have been required. Now reduced to $681,685, the levy will require a rate of $4.14 per $1,000 of equalized valuation. This year's levy, $114,202 less than the 1968 total, required a rate of $3.65. The rate increase for 1968 amounts to 48 cents per $1,000 equalized valuation.

Charities and corrections show the largest expenditure increase with $505,898, up $171,007. Medical aids are $78,120, up $52,672 and aid to dependent children $59,025, up $21,275. Also taking a sharp increase were the special charges due to a new charge-back formula used by the state. This totaled $103,615, an increase of $64,964. These charges are for patients in penal and charitable institutions. However, in 1969 this will be cut considerably according to the State Department of Audit.

Protection increases. Other increased expenditures are general government, $161,870, up $15,294 and protection of persons and property $126,752, Sheriff's investigator.

Cremation for Schmidt Body

Coroner Grants Permit; Services Already Completed

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps Tuesday issued a cremation permit for George A. Schmidt, 82, at the request of an Appleton funeral home.

It was learned that the remains of the elderly Appleton man will be cremated today at Sheboygan. It also was learned that private funeral services were held in Appleton "about a week ago." The funeral was only for members of the immediate family.

Schmidt's dismembered body was found near his home at 319 N. Division St., about a month ago. The man's wife was committed to Winnebago State Hospital Monday morning.

Kemps said today that the pathological examination by the State Crime Laboratory has been completed and "the toxicologist's report is still pending and may be made available late this week."

Will Depend on Legal Opinion

SDS Mulls Vietnam Referendum

Future efforts of the Students for Democratic Society (SDS) at Lawrence University aimed at holding a public referendum on the Vietnam war in Appleton next April will depend on a legal opinion from an American Civil Liberties Union attorney.

Spokesman Mark Orton, 20, junior from Cohasset, Mass., told about 40 SDS members Tuesday night that Appleton officials have indicated that it is not proper for the municipal government to deal with such topics.

"This is one of the areas the city government is not competent to deal with," Orton explained. "It (the referendum) doesn't look very good right now."

However, they said that efforts are continuing and contented that a legal brief might defeat the city's position.

Orton and several cohorts, including he estimated at 100 which campus sympathizers, believe individuals must take a stand on the war in Vietnam and would like a city-wide referendum for the total Appleton opinion.

Must Decide. Orion and student senate president David Chambers, 22, senior from Cambridge, Mass., and former SDS spokesman, both to Milwaukee recently to participate in some weekend decision; there's no place for neutrality on the war in Vietnam.

Chambers termed the Southeast Asian conflict "illegal, immoral, unjust and not accomplishing anything, except killing Vietnamese, Americans, and hurting U.S. domestic gains."

Nancy, Johnson, 21, senior from Louisville, Ky. and treasurer of SDS agreed.

"It's not helping our poverty programs either," she complained.

Chambers, who emphasized the method of opposition must be an individual decision, said he opposed the war as "just part of the war in Vietnam and the whole system."

The senate president cited the Milwaukee marches as an example of individuality: "When you go down there to march, you have to play by their rules."

Chambers was among about 25 informal meeting in the Student Union basement. Nancy Winbigler, 19, sophomore from Western Springs, Ill., urged that Lawrence female students should consider a campaign to abolish "dormitory hours."

Expert Foresees Need For Formulated Food

Commodities Could be Tailored to Suit Local Dietary Needs, Farm-City Group Told

BY PAT DUFFEY Post-Crescent Farm Editor

Developing products from formulated foods which can be adapted to local taste and dietary preferences should be given high priority in planning for future food needs, a prominent corn industry spokesman told a farm-city day program at Appleton Wednesday noon.

Robert C. Liebenow, president of the Corn Refiners Association, Washington, D.C., stressed this theory during the program sponsored by the Appleton Kiwanis Club at the Conway Motor Inn.

As examples Liebenow pointed to two corn industry byproducts — high lysine corn which has a high protein content and the corn soybean combination — corn soya.

The government this year purchased $18 million worth of the corn soya, the first time formulated foods were used for the foreign donation programs.

Future Foods.

He noted that since 70 per cent of the world's surface is covered by the seas the waters will become another source of future foods. Countries like Japan already are farming the seas.

Although there are about 25,000 species of fish, only a dozen make up the bulk of the world's catch. At a sea farm the north of Tokyo more than 4,000 salmon and trout are raised in nylon net cages. The fish are fed enriched food pellets and chopped raw sardines through a "chimney" net leading to the surface.

Scientists predict that in 25 years fish will be raised in offshore pens tended by divers living for months in underground sea houses. The dolphin may be trained as the sea farm sheepdog, he said.

Three Hits—Out

Action Ends for Marine

NEW LONDON — Three times and out!

Sad for a baseball player but the U.S. Marine Corps interpretation had a happier ending for a New London enlistee, Cpl. Robert L. Ritchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ritchie, 333½ Elm St.

Ritchie has been wounded three times during his stint in Vietnam — luckily not seriously. After his third injury, he was transferred to Camp Butler, Okinawa.

His parents were notified of the transfer Monday by a Marine who came to their home to deliver a telegram from Gen. Wallace M. Green Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps.

The telegram read, "This is to confirm that your son Corporal Robert L. Ritchie, USMC has recovered from wounds received Sept. 2 and was returned to duty Oct. 9. Your son was again injured Oct. 17 in the vicinity of Quang Tri. He sustained a contusion to the right arm when the amphibious tractor he was riding in detonated a hostile mine."

"He was treated at the battalion aid station and returned to duty. His condition and prognosis were excellent. In view of the fact that your son was wounded three times, he was reassigned for duty effective Oct. 20 to Camp Butler. It is hoped that he has communicated with you of his welfare."

Sewage Lift Station Request Referred to Chilton City Engineer

Construction of Facility Could Open Up Westside Expansion

CHILTON — The proposal for rezoning a parcel of land owned by Eugene Janssen on the north end of the city from residential to commercial. The request was made by Leroy Sell who hopes to purchase land for construction of a building for a carpeting and flooring business.

The council approved a request by Donald Hoffmann, Chilton, to raise the established Breed Street grade level. He intends to build on a parcel north of Breed Street where the level is low. If the level is raised it will conform with other buildings around him.

Muehl has requested a meeting with the senior alderman from each ward to develop a cost plan for installation of a storm sewer line on the site for the new Bloomer Pontiac-Boick Corp. garage north of the city. The pipe would handle water drainage from 700 acres of farmland plus the Breed Street area. The present drainage ditch would be closed.

Cost of the project is estimated at $25,000 to $30,000. The city's tax base should increase by about $100,000 due to the business expansion. Development of another business next to the garage site also is anticipated.

The council ordered condemnation proceedings to acquire a 17-foot strip from the Standard Oil Co. for future highway development. The city at one time gave the land to the firm and later offered to buy it back but was refused.

In final action the council voted to join the Calumet County Civic Association for the betterment of the county.

Expenditures Up $824,297 For 1968

WAUPACA — A proposed 1968 Waupaca County budget of $4,877,910, up $824,297 from last year's $4,053,613 was adopted Wednesday by the county finance committee and will be presented to the county board.

There will be a public hearing on the budget at 10 a.m. Nov. 13 in the county board room.

An increase of over $7 million in the equalized valuation of the county, and the use of $100,000 of surplus funds has made it possible to maintain the county tax rate at $5.75 per $1,000 of equalized valuation. However, the tax levy has gone up from $1,031,997 to $1,080,268 in the new budget, an increase of $48,271.

Surplus Remains.

Last year, $50,000 of surplus funds was used to supplement the budget, and with this year's appropriation, the county still will have a surplus of more than $500,000, according to County Clerk Robert Backer.

Biggest budget jump is in the welfare department, up $988,306 to $1,928,504 from $1,041,198 last year. Old age assistance has increased from $245,000 to $890,000 and aid to the disabled from $63,000 to $163,000. Costs for state colony and training schools has jumped $19,090 from $7,912 to $27,002. Most increases in the welfare budget are a result of a new cost-sharing plan at the state level.

All other general categories have shown increases with the exception of health, indebtedness and the unclassified. A drop in the amount needed for the care of the tubercular from $28,515 to $24,250 in the health category has reduced the total health budget from $47,216 to $44,572.

The amount needed for indebtedness dropped slightly from $64,775 to $63,425 by a reduction on the interest paid on bonds.

Retirement Down.

A $3,300 cut in the amount needed for payments into the retirement fund for county employees has helped drop the total unclassified budget from $31,588 to $27,585. Last year $12,700 was needed for the fund and this year it has been dropped to $8,000.

An anticipated request for a pay hike for county board members has brought the proposed board cost from $17,410 to $21,565 and the amount appropriated for elections has increased from $2,000 in 1967 to $8,500 in 1968.

Law enforcement, register of deeds and civil defense costs have gone up from $132,730 to $140,000.

Resignations Continue at Feeder Pig Co-op

FRANCIS CREEK (AP) — Elroy Oeder, Wayside, sales manager of the dairy herd replacement division of the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing Cooperative, submitted his resignation Wednesday.

He was the fourth official of the cooperative to resign this week and the move left the co-op without most of its former administrative leadership.

All the resignations were prompted by the firing last September of General Manager Norval Dvorak, who had held the post since the cooperative was founded 10 years ago.

China has been quite restrained. It inter-vened in Korea but only after being afraid American troops might cross China's own border and it has not yet done more than send supplies and verbal encouragement to Hanoi. Professor Reischauer suggests that China's anger at the West is at least as much based on historical antagonisms and years of exploitation as upon ideology.

China's nuclear progress is certainly a major factor in the new concern at the State Department. Despite its economic problems it has moved considerably faster in the nuclear realm than was anticipated in Washington. Certainly the danger of China's using its nuclear weapons should not be discounted.

But this serves to emphasize even more strongly our own error in so extensively committing ourselves in Viet-nam. Professor Reischauer writes that "any attempt by China to conquer or hold down India or much of Southeast Asia would prove disastrous for China." Instead of insisting on confronting China militarily, as our current policies may well lead, we should be encouraging even more the other Asian countries which far more than American military might would be a deterrent to Chinese expansion.

And so one more calm reasoned voice is added to the chorus against our Southeast Asian policies.

to the Highway Department

We would respectfully suggest to Mr. Bakke, who is now the chief administrator of all the state transportation services as secretary of the new state Department of Transportation, that he spend a day or two of leisurely auto travel and take note of what he finds about the number and appearance of the road signs with all the detachment he can command. He might also consult impartial neighbors and friends about the color design and the narrative on some of the special sign-boards his department erects. Is it necessary to blare out the news on a huge bill-board that there is a new road under construction, when it is perfectly evident to any passerby, and that "your highway dollars are at work"? We intended that they be put to work when we sent them to Madison under force of law.

American industry but the long run effects may be much more serious.

Latin American purchases of supersonic planes mean millions of dollars not spent on their real needs. The jets can hardly be used to put down local rebellions of guerrilla attacks. What if one of these days, Peru, Chile or Venezuela decides to have a go at Havana to put Castro in his place?

The various wars that have broken out around the world with our arms used on both sides have pretty well proved that we cannot control emotions, the balance of armaments or even our own balance of payments by promoting arms sales. If we do not sell to Latin America of course someone else will. The United States is in no moral position to sermonize about such sales to France or Great Britain who have already run up against our super sales-men.

There are other disturbing aspects to the arms sales. As some of the weapons become obsolete, they are in turn sold to even poorer countries with even less governmental responsibility as to their use. Despite the American arms embargo to both India and Pakistan when they started to fight, ninety Sabrejets turned up in Pakistan. They were owned by Iran, purchased from West Germany and made in Canada under an American license. Although the United States was supposed to approve all such sales and re-sales, Iran insisted the planes had been sent to Pakistan "for repairs." It was clearly a way around the embargo and one that could easily happen again.

Reportedly the United States and the Soviet Union have reached some sort of unannounced agreement about trying to limit arms to the Middle East. The stake for peace is just as high as far as the United States is concerned in Latin America. The new supersonic jets could well trigger increased Russian arms aid to Cuba.

It may seem ridiculous to prevent our own industries' access to that market but in the long run it could be the wiser step. In the long run in fact it might well be sensible to cut off the sales of arms all over the world.

Everyone's for Free Trade, Except For That Industry in Home District

BY WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

A most enterprising reporter for The Miami Herald has filed a story on the extraordinary pressures being put on Congress to back away from tariff reform, the focus of which is that the typical senator is all for low tariffs except for that wee little industry which simply has to have protection, and is incidentally located in his home state

Buckley

There isn't any party line in the matter. Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas, for instance, a doughty Republican, is a great advocate of the Kennedy Round, which is the next-scheduled series of mutual tariff reductions — "We can't live in the world by ourselves," he has said: "I'm for more trade." Even so, the same Senator Carlson is a co-sponsor of bills to restrict imports on two items that compete with Kansas products, oil and beef.

Senator Stephen M. Young is the liberal Democrat from Ohio, perhaps the biggest noisemaker in Ohio history, who is so liberal most of the football was to be auctioned off by Andrew Parnell, executive chairman of Outagamie County's war savings staff. The football prize was to go to the highest pledge for bonds.

10 YEARS AGO Thursday, Oct. 24, 1957.

Fox Valley Lutheran High School football team played its first full season that year. Members of the squad were Ron Olm, Dennis Anderson, Carl Parnell, Harold Buss, Arvin Klump, Bob Luebke, Ralph Buss, Dick Suellflow, Duane Albrecht, Wayne Neumann, Ralph Neumann, Richard Neubert, Vernon Baehman, Dan Otto, Ralph Lane, Dale Jensen, Otto Pingel, Dave Reschke, Lowell Kading, Steve Boese, Jerry Wolf, Lavern Holz, Wes Reschke, Jim Radichel, Earl Sager, Duane Bellin, Dennis Wendt, Tom Wolslegel, Wilbert Abitz, and Captain Ron Howey. Coaches were Gerhard Kaniess, Ron Roehl and Wayne Belling.

Walter Brown wrote and directed a play about Christopher Columbus at Richmond School. The students were all in Intermediate I class. The actors included Walter as King Ferdinand, Tommy Lennon as a sailor, Billy Meyer in the role of Columbus, Dick Erickson as a guard and Danny Rettler portraying King John.

time he can't stand it. Needless to say he is for free trade. Except steel. "Steel is an important factor in Ohio," says an aide for Senator Young, almost as important as votes. JAVITS PRINCIPLED MAN. Senator George A. Smathers of Florida is a member of the Finance Committee and he has spoken out vigorously against new trade barriers, and one's heart, like Diogenes', almost stops until one finds that Senator Smathers is backing a bill which would prohibit trade negotiations on farm products produced with migrant labor, i.e., in competition with Florida. There are a couple of exceptions, and one of them is Senator Jacob K. Javits who at last incarnates the principled man — he has come out against trade restrictions, no ifs ands or buts. However, his selfishness is neatly undercut by Mr. Philip Meyer who observes, "He's not being particularly altruistic about it. Import quotas would on balance seriously undermine the foundation of my own state of New York's welfare and economy," as Javits said last week — New York exports $1.5 billion in manufactured goods and $75 million in agricultural goods each year. "If other countries erected retaliatory trade barriers" — which of course they would do — "New Yorkers would be paying for the increased protection of other industries," Javits said.

Now of course, it is no news when politicians desert principle in order to appease their constituencies. Senator William Fulbright, who has been pretty good on free trade, isn't getting much pressure from home. One would suppose that otherwise he would switch. He has in the past shown much more concern for clean elections in South Vietnam, than in Arkansas. Back when John F. Kennedy, author of the Kennedy Round now being disputed, was Senator John F. Kennedy, running for President of the United States, he gave a speech in New Hampshire which had no textual mention in it of the depressed state of the local cobbler industry. Observing that he was getting nowhere by his exalted rhetoric on the missile gap and the failure of America to move again, he suddenly extemporized a demand that the shoe industry "be protected," and he got, in return for turning aside his profile from courage, a howling ovation.

THEORY IS SIMPLE

What is most needed is a program of general education about the strategic myopia of high tariffs. The theory of the thing isn't hard to grasp (though there are those who have not grasped it). You cannot sell abroad, which we are urgently anxious to do, without buying abroad. You hardly penalize an American consumer by permitting him to purchase from abroad goods that are produced by labor that sells its time, i.e. to American consumers, at half the cost of local labor. The tricky part of it all is that the competition, which ideally is made possible by the high capital investment in the American economic machine, is as a practical matter a difficult thing to maintain as the overhead of business life mounts for reasons primarily political, rather than economic, as for instance by the heavy tax load American business has to bear, and the high cost of labor induced by the monopoly labor unions — and, not least, by the climate of official terrorism against investments abroad. All of this should be thrashed out. But the pure of heart must oppose lifting our tariff barriers, which the great conservative economist Co in Clark of Oxford has rightly called the "greatest single act of misanthropy a nation is capable of."

The Supreme Court says it's legal to use public school buses to haul kids to parochial schools. Of course, they're on their honor not to pray.

The court says Southern schools must desegregate, and Martin Luther King must go to jail. New Southern slogan: Impeach Earl Warren — but not too much.

And the justices have agreed to decide if it's constitutional to jail an alcoholic. First they'll do research — then comes the ruling by the high court.

The government says new cars must have shoulder belts, front and rear. Isn't that kind of old-fashioned — the belted-in-the-back model?

Wisconsin Report

Several Democratic Legislators Consider Turning Republican

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — Cuff notes from the Capitol press gallery: The 99 to vote in the Wisconsin Assembly favoring a modification of the uniformity of county government rule and to authorize the office of county executive for all counties was a triumph for one of the Legislature's newest lobbying recruits, Robert Mortensen of the Wisconsin County Boards Association.

Wyngaard

Successor to the widely known Alfred J. Thelen, who remains as a consultant on the association staff, the diligent Mortensen has made a good impression upon the Legislature. The overwhelming support for the constitutional amendment sponsored by his association makes it a fair presumption that it will ultimately be enacted.

A sign of declining morale in the state Democratic Party is the persistent report that several Democrats in the Legislature are contemplating a switch to the Republican ticket when they run for re-election next year.

Such a transfer of allegiance is infrequent, but not rare. There are several men now sitting in the 1967 session with party labels different from those they chose when they started their legislative careers.

Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette probably made the most serious blunder of his career when he impulsively attacked "police brutality" after the university student rioting incident last week. He has tried to ameliorate the statement later, but his enemies won't be easily persuaded to forget the episode.

An elderly former legislator turned up in Madison the other day to complain to acquaintances about what he called the plush style of living of the present generation of lawmakers. From his own perspective, he probably had a complaint.

Telephone privileges, postage allowances, state paid publicity aides and many other fringe benefits accepted with little comment today were unheard of only a quarter of a century ago, although the Legislature is merely adapting for its own purposes a more generous standard of living that is provided in the other state services, which gets less notice there.

After several years of careful preparation, the State Bar of Wisconsin is ready to launch the public relations program that was one of the purposes of its creation. It has hired as chief of its public relations bureau Mitchell Bliss, an accomplished newspaperman best known as the former city editor of the Janesville Gazette.

Discussions among the bench and bar of the state suggest that Edwin Wilkie, the former Dane County circuit judge who is now the state court administrator, intends to use his powers forcefully and impartially in distributing the judicial manpower of the state where the litigation caseload requires it.

Willis Donley of Menomonie, one of the legendary personalities of the colorful legislative politics of the early 1930s, came to Madison the other day and complained to an old friend about the burdens of aging.

There are three disabilities of the elderly man, he related. The first is that he finds it difficult to remember. But he had forgotten the second and the third, he said.

In the publicity hassle that followed Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich's complaint about exceptionally high administrative salaries in some state services and his demand for legislative review of all salaries above $25,000, one important point was ignored.

The Legislature through the Finance Committee's preparation of the biennial budget now has such control. But it has not been used.

Members frequently grumble about what they find in the salary schedule, in private. In the public deliberations they are apparently reluctant to bring up the subject of obvious discrepancies in pay for similar work, as well as the unlimited pay raise privileges of some boards with respect to their subordinates, and the explicit limits imposed upon others for no visible reason.

Some legislators are already calculating the prospects for the reapportionment of congressional districts after the 1970 census and what the rearrangement of counties may mean for their own careers — including congressional candidacies a surprising number of them have in mind.

Thoughts at Large Occupy Harris Today

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Perhaps the ultimate test of a wise parent is knowing when the child must not be forced against its will, and when the child really wants to be forced against its will.

The inability to forget injustices inflicted upon us is a form of slavery that is more be able to walk for the weight of the load.

Talent, of course, is inborn; but its manifestation is always a response to a hostile environment — as a pearl is formed by irritation in the oyster.

Imagining that two persons can live together before marriage and thus gain a knowledge of what marriage will be like together, is as fallacious as imagining that playing tennis with the net down provides an adequate example of what the game will be with the net stretched taut.

Once you believe you are doing something from a single motive, distrust that action — for you are lying to yourself.

It is easy to see that force without intelligence soon leads to brutality; what is less easy to see, but equally true, is that intelligence without force soon makes the triumph of brutality inevitable.

Smug moralizers would do well to ponder the ancient words of Chaung-Tse, who said: "Of the five vices, the vice of the mind is the worst. What is the vice of the mind? It is self-satisfaction."

When a man isn't doing much of anything, he is said to be "loafing"; when a woman isn't doing much of anything, she is said to be "shopping."

"Irony" was invented by the weak in order to insult the strong without being punished for it.

Youth Unsympathetic to Riots

BY ROGER PITT

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

STEVENS POINT — Central Wisconsin's 250 high school youngsters attending the second "Youth Leadership" seminar at Wisconsin State University here, Monday, showed little sympathy for rioters who left deep scars on many large American cities last summer.

"The individual and the Equality of Man" seminar led by the Rev. Perry Saito, a Methodist minister of Oriental extraction and a member of the Governor's Commission on Human Rights, opened with a discussion of the racial issue and then switched to civil disobedience by demonstrators who converged on the Pentagon last weekend.

Discussion during the morning session centered on open housing, Pastor Saito said, while the afternoon group seemed to be more concerned with disobedience or equality in the individual's right to demonstrate.

Pastor Saito said individual rights impose an obligation on someone else to see that they are given the right.

Property rights depend on human rights and are restricted by local rules, he said.

"A law will not eliminate discrimination," Saito told a questioner. "State law allows us to discriminate in our home, but not in our business."

The pastor shared the youths' feelings of little sympathy for the rioters, but clarified the difference between demonstrating and rioting must be defined.

"It is not wrong to demonstrate — this is an American given right. But to engage in destruction of property or injuring another must and should be punished," Saito said.

Civil disobedience is justified in many cases, such as when a local law doesn't agree with the constitution, he said. People such as Martin Luther King are not breaking the law. They say, "I don't agree with this law so I am willing to take the consequences," he explained.

Law-Lawlessness

Pastor Saito said there is a difference between respect for the law and lawlessness — even if a person should break certain laws he considers to be immoral. Total disregard for the law is anarchy and the object of anarchy is the violent overthrow of all government, he added.

A person who is to take part in a "civil disobedience" demonstration should report to local authorities that he is going to break the law and he willing to take the punishment, Pastor Saito clarified.

"We must remember that no minority, or anyone else has the right to riot," he emphasized. "It is important not to believe in Negro, teen or any minority rights, but to believe in human rights and to see that they are available to all."

Tony Albright Wausau said he believed avenues were available to persons disagreeing with the Vietnam policy other than demonstrations. He singled out persons not paying taxes rather than those attempting to avoid the draft.

Stricter Enforcement

Albright said the government should be stricter in enforcing and dealing with the persons who marched on the Pentagon during the weekend. He said the problem was not on the individual level, but rather when a group formed a conspiracy to oppose a law. The Wausau student said that burning draft cards was a coercive act by the demonstrators and influenced others to break the law.

Another student said that he felt many people were saying "I want my rights," but would not accept any responsibility to gain them or retain them once gained.

A girl said it was not right for a man to take all the advantages the country offers and then to say he doesn't want to serve in the military. She said that he should lose rights as a penalty.

Saito replied every man has the responsibility to die for his country if necessary, but he also said because 12 members of his Eau Claire parish had been science. Rights of conscience killed in the war.

Pastor Saito said everyone of them had died for the American principle. "I feel I would have to fight it (Communism) with all my tools — although my tools are not physical weapons."

He supported the U.S. involvement in Vietnam. "We need to that I have — although my tools are not physical weapons." "We are fighting and dying 'Young people must change overseas," Pastor Saito said. "Young people must change society — certainly my generation won't," Saito said.

Public Works Projects Assessed by Brillion

Benefitting Property Owners Must Pay for Sidewalk, Driveway, Curb and Gutter Work

BRILLION — Assessments to conjunction with the urban renewal program with provision of some parking space by the city. No action was taken, but the city council will discuss and evaluate the proposal, the mayor said.

The council okayed a bartender's license for Thomas Schwartz.

Contemplated extension of Elm Street behind the public school was explained to members of the board of education and Ben Zeamer, who owns adjacent property.

Director of Public Works Glen Campbell reported that the curb and gutter project on Springdale Drive began Monday and that sewer installations in the Wolf west of Columbus Ave.

If sidewalk assessments are not paid in full by Dec. 1 they will be put on the tax roll to be paid by Feb. 28.

3-Year Payment Assessments for curb and gutter are $1.89 per foot. Payments can be made over a 3-year period with 6 1/2 per cent interest on the unpaid balance, according to the resolution.

A 660-foot water main extension on National Avenue will be paid for by Herman Handrey, Brillion Housing Corporation and Merlin Wieting at $2.73 per foot. A 3-year payment program also was okayed for this $1,801 project.

Ten property owners in the Koch-Riemer Addition on Meadowood Lane each will be assessed $163.43 for the additional blacktop and gravel necessary because of the circle drive and elimination of curb and gutter.

Hire Inspector

In other action the council approved Mayor Clarence Wolf's appointment of Leslie Freutel, Chilton, as housing inspector. Freutel will receive $2 per hour to inspect all city dwellings by Aug. 1, 1968 to comply with the city housing code.

The mayor reported that the city's urban renewal fund request is being updated and will be submitted within two weeks to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Simon Garrow, local real estate agent, told the city council that representatives of a supermarket chain are interested in establishing a store in Brillion. The firm needs approximately 30,000 square feet of space — 7,000 for the building and about three times that amount for parking space, Garrow said. He suggested it might be feasible to include the facility in the downtown area in

The equipment is available without charge to county residents for two-month periods. Donations were voted to the Calumet County Association for Retarded Children and for the Department President's Special Scholarship Fund. The state auxiliary provides six $500 scholarships from this fund each year for veterans' children.

licenses and permits are expected to bring in $42,500 next year compared with $41,800 in 1968.

Gifts and grants, which include the money to help support the welfare program, have been increased from $1,096,371 to $1,513,982. However, Backer explained this increased amount does not offset the large increase in the welfare spending.

Cost of highway operation and maintenance for the coming year has been set at $2,015,200, and $285,000 for outlay brings the total county highway budget to $2,300,200, compared with highway expenditures estimated at $2,061,600 for the current year. Highway revenues are expected to climb from $1,601,600 to $1,822,200 which means that the amount needed from the tax levy for the highway department in the coming year will be $478,000, or an increase of $18,000 over last year's $460,000.

The contingency fund is set at $7,114.

His fines were $15, $10 and $50, respectively.

The youth was arrested shortly before midnight Monday in Manawa by county police.

Buckley Calls Discussion on VTE-12 Budget

District Leaders Asked to Attend Session in Appleton

Municipal officials from cities, villages and towns in a four-county area have been asked to meet in Appleton Monday to discuss and take possible legal steps to soften the impact of Vocational School District (VTE-12) tax levies.

The amounts assessed communities for the vocational program in 1968, after the forming of the district, rose sharply compared with previous years.

Mayor George Buckley, with the authorization of the Appleton City Council, wrote to mayors, managers and village presidents in Outagamie, Calumet, Waupaca and Winnebago Counties asking them to participate.

Meet Monday

The emergency meeting will be at the Left Guard Charcoal House, 3025 W. College Avenue, in the Town of Grand Chute.

Buckley sent the letters Wednesday afternoon, declaring, "I am asking for your cooperation in attending a meeting, together with your respective attorneys, to discuss possible legal steps to be taken with respect to the drastic increase in assessment levied against all of us by the Area Vocational School District."

Buckley cited, for example, that last year's assessment against Appleton was less than $30,000 but this year is almost $400,000.

"I am sure that most of you have experienced similar situations and I believe that it is urgent to determine whether or not we can do anything about it," Buckley wrote officials.

Buckley asked officials to notify his office if they could attend.

"Any help that you could render in contacting interested town chairmen in your area would be greatly appreciated," Buckley added. "It is quite possible that a number of these men might wish to join us in this discussion."

New 3-County Group Needs Reorganization

Only 7 Communities Attend Development Association Meeting

MENASHA — A major regrouping effort faces the newly-created tri-county development association. Only seven of 20 communities were represented at the organizational meeting, Wednesday night.

The businessman's group, which was enthusiastically received by leaders in Winnebago, Outagamie and Calumet counties when the idea was introduced five months ago, suffered from absenteeism at the first official session.

Municipalities which had voting members at the meeting were Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna, Winneconne, Sherwood, Shiocton and Hilbert. Oshkosh, the second largest city in the area, was not represented.

Hurt by Merger

The tri-county unit, which one member believed was hurting from the ill-fated tri-county merger proposal of Assemblyman Harold Froehlich, R - Appleton, and David O. Martin, R-Neenah, was created to provide communication and a united voice among the various business communities.

William Schlopman, representing Winneconne, said the group should spell out its designs to the missing communities since confusion had resulted from the political and economic tri-county movements.

Clarence Mueller, Sherwood, said the group's biggest job was building up the membership. He pointed to the sudden "disinterest" on the part of the absent business representatives.

Draw Plans

The executive committee, headed by George Greenwood, Kaukauna, will meet next month to draw up plans for the coming year.

Standing committees will be named to handle studies of recreation and tourism, industry manpower and transportation and traffic in the area.

Newly-elected officers include Greenwood, chairman; Dale D. Nichols, Shiocton, vice chairman; Leander Roehrig, Hilbert, Secretary; and John G. Konrad, Neenah-Menasha, treasurer.

Clintonville Man Sentenced To Prison on Morals Charge

A Clintonville man, who earlier changed his plea to guilty on her a ride home from babysitting, was sentenced to a year in prison on a charge of feloniously having intercourse with a 14-year-old girl last year, today was sentenced to an indeterminate term of up to five years in Wisconsin State Prison, Waupun.

Morris F. Clement, 30, 96 Brix St., was sentenced by Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell, who had ordered a pre-sentence investigation by the State Department of Health and Social Services. Clement was free on bond pending the report.

Outagamie County sheriff's investigators said the offense, involving a Shiocton area girl, occurred in Shiocton last Oct. 28. A second morals charge, alleging involvement with a 17-year-old girl last May 2 in the Town of Main, was dismissed.

Authorities said the offense involving the 14-year-old girl

CLINTONVILLE — Mayor Frank Sinkewicz has proclaimed Monday as the official day for the observance of Halloween in Clintonville.

His proclamation is in keeping with the practice the past three years of limiting "Trick or Treat" activity and UNICEF solicitation to one day only instead of the previous two days.

Civic groups, many individuals and the police department have encouraged such a proclamation.

Residents are encouraged to have their porch lights on between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. Monday for UNICEF solicitation and for "tricks or treats."

Winnebago Help Asked for Hearing

Bubolz Wants to Study Appleton Pipeline Plan Effect on Lake

OSHKOSH — The Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission has made an effort to get Winnebago County support in requesting a public hearing on Appleton's proposed water transmission line to Lake Winnebago.

In a letter read before board supervisors Wednesday night, Gordon A. Bubolz, commission chairman, said that the Public Service Commission and the Department of Natural Resources have been asked to investigate all aspects of the pipeline and its effect on the lake.

Supv. Alfred Becher, Menasha, who read the letter, said the pipeline would give Appleton up to 48 million gallons of water a day. He said Appleton would not be putting any water back into the lake.

Granted Authority

An application to the Public Service Commission by Appleton had granted the city authority to construct the pipeline.

The Public Service Commission was only required to consider the "prudence of investment on the cost of services and rates charges for service," according to Bubolz.

The commission was not required by statute to consider the effect the pipeline would have on the communities affected, caused of pollution to the Fox River and landowners with riparian interests on the lake.

Poor Statutes

Bubolz stressed, "It is evident that the statutes fall short of the needed consideration of problems which affect the public interest in connection with major water withdrawals by a public utility."

Bubolz stated that a hearing should be required for protection of water resources — not only in regard to small changes along lake shores, but also when major water projects are proposed.

Earlier this week the Calumet County board ordered Dist. Atty. F. J. Schmieder to launch a thorough investigation into Appleton's Lake Winnebago pipeline and possible effects of water diversion on the lake level and shoreline.

The board, at its September session, issued a strongly worded protest to the plan and directed inquiries to the Public Service Commission and the attorney general's office.

Halloween Can be Safer for Children With Precautions

BY E. H. JORRIS M.D.
State Health Officer

Black cats, goblins, witches and all sorts of weird creatures will soon have their annual night to prow. Although many neighborhoods and communities arrange parties for high school and upper grade school youngsters on Halloween most of the younger contingent highlights the occasion with a few hours of "trick or treating".

If your family includes small fry who will be among the door-to-door callers, there are a few simple precautions that can make the evening safer for the children and more tolerable for you.

1. Check costume to be sure it isn't so long that it makes walking difficult or trips the child. Don't let the child wear large heavy boots or try to navigate with women's high heel shoes. Don't devise a costume that makes it necessary for the child to carry a sharp object such as a sword or lance. Use light colored material for the costume or use reflectorized tape so the youngster will be to-door callers, there are a few simple precautions that can warm, not hot, iron. Use fire-retardant crepe for paper costumes.)

2. Use makeup instead of a mask. Many masks have eye slits that hamper vision and close fitting rubber masks can endanger breathing, especially on very young children.

3. Use flashlights to light jack-o-lanterns, and do not use candles at a party or any other gathering of children.

4. Let youngsters go on the "trick or treat" expedition early in the evening and set a specific time for them to be home.

5. Caution youngsters to stay out of the streets and to be cautious when crossing streets, alleys, and parking lots. Some parents find it possible to limit their younger "goblins" to calling only at homes in their own block and thus eliminate the need to cross the street.

6. Instruct your youngster to take only his share of the treats offered and to eat only a moderate amount, regardless of the quantity in his "loot" bag.

Precautions about the home might include the storing of items such as trash cans, lawnmowers, bicycles, and other movable objects. White rags or other markers should be placed on guy wires, guards around trees and so on. Do not burn leaves at night and do not pile leaves in the street. The adult who drives a car in a residential area on Halloween should proceed with extra caution.

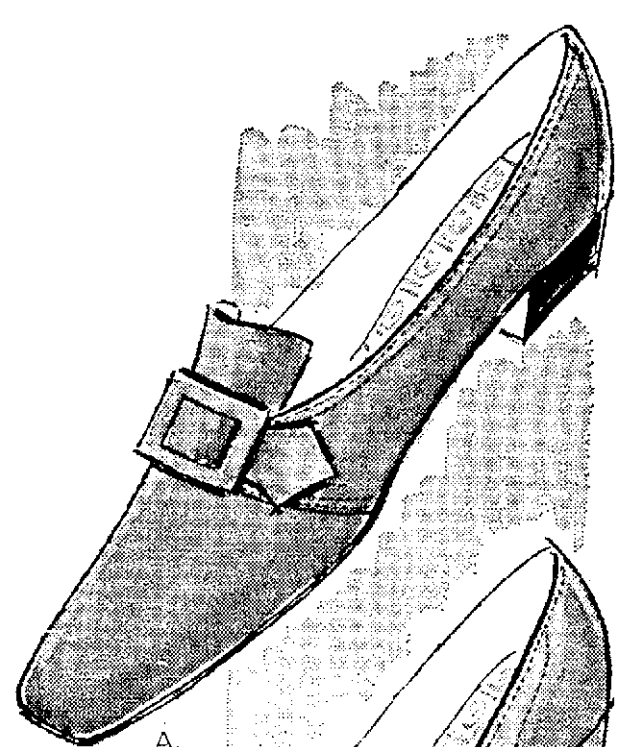

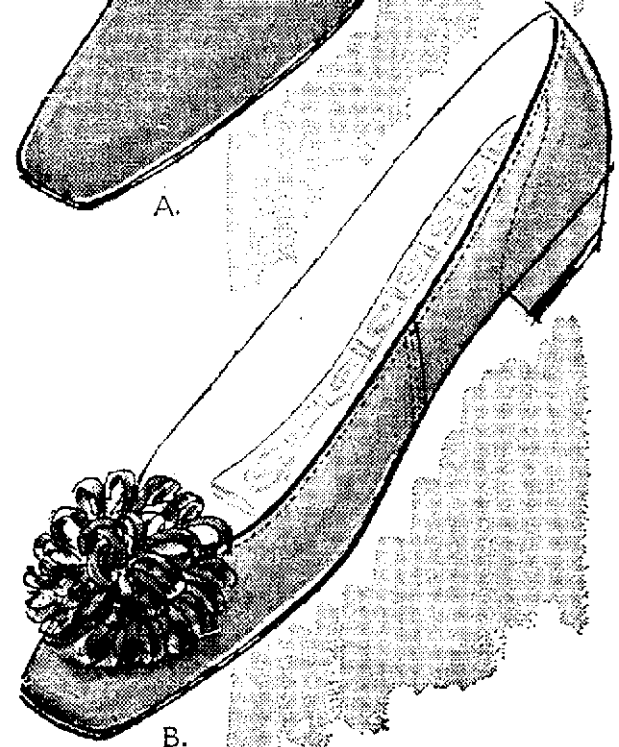

If you have a little tyke who goes out "trick or treating" help him unwind before bedtime. Letting him tell you about his evening or giving him a warm tub bath will help.

Preparation can make Halloween both happy and harmless.

Cancer Cure Might be In Vaccine for Smallpox

TORONTO (AP) — A retired Toronto radiologist says he stumbled on a remedy for warts that could shed important light on a cure for cancer.

Dr. Andrew McGee, 67, who retired in January after 34 years as chief radiologist at East General Hospital, told a recent news conference about his discovery that smallpox vaccine apparently cures warts.

He said the cure is effective if the vaccine is applied directly to the wart, pricked under the surface with a needle, and added that 99 per cent of 400 warts he injected disappeared. Although cancer tumors are malignant and most warts are not, uncontrolled growth of cells causes both conditions.

Caused by Virus

The significance, says Dr. McGee, is that warts are the only human tumors known to be caused by a virus. Scientists suspect, but have been unable to prove, that certain kinds of cancer are caused by viruses.

Thus, if one virus can cure in humans a virus-caused nonmalignant tumor, such as warts, the possibility is that other viruses can be found to kill cancer viruses that probably cause cancer.

"I'm not interested in curing warts," said Dr. McGee. "A virus against cancer—that's what we're all looking for."

Dr. McGee's work began about five years ago, when some persons he had vaccinated for smallpox called to tell him their warts had been cured. He didn't realize the significance until a third patient told him of the wart cure.

Nearly Missed It

"I was so dumb I nearly missed it. I had to be told three times," he commented.

About a year later, he experienced what he described as "my bright moment."

"I thought perhaps the vaccine was too weak to kill the wart virus in all but one out of every 20 cases. I decided I would inoculate directly into the wart."

"To my great surprise, the first time I tried it the wart redened up and then faded away. I was back in business."

He said the cure is actually a battle between the smallpox virus and the wart.

"It's like a cat and a mouse," he added. "The two viruses can't get along in the same room."

Senate Opens War in State On Shoplifting

Approves Giving Power to Stores To Detain Suspects

MADISON (AP) — State lawmakers declared war Wednesday on shoplifting, with a bill giving store employees the power to detain suspected thieves for 30 minutes without fear of criminal or civil liability.

Two amendments to weaken the bill were defeated before the proposal was approved by the Senate 22-9 and sent to the Assembly.

The bill would allow any adult employee in a supervisory position to hold suspects until police arrived, but it specified the employee must allow the detained person to make telephone calls.

Amendments to shorten the time to ten minutes and to make the employee liable for civil actions after the detention were turned back on voice votes.

Home Rule Bill

The Senate also approved overwhelmingly a bill to extend the home rule powers of counties. On a 29-2 vote, the Upper House passed a measure to give counties the power to appoint a mayor-like county executive with the prior approval of the legislature.

Currently, only Milwaukee has the power to name such an official.

"We're still shackled with the same government that was set up 100 years ago," complained Senate Minority Leader Fred Risser, D-Madison. "And things have changed in 100 years."

Risser supported the resolution, although he had urged a full-fledged constitutional amendment eliminating the state's uniform county government requirement.

The Senate also:

— Voted to expand the state's anti-secrecy law to include boards and committees acting as advisors to state government agencies — Voted to allow counties to finance low-cost housing units through county housing authorities.

— Approved a bill to allow county boards to hire public defenders for indigents.

The Senate killed a bill to allow future legislatures to draw Assembly boundaries across county lines. The measure had been asked to assure all districts would be approximately the same size.

The Senate Labor, Taxation, Insurance and Banking Committee endorsed a bill calling for a partial rollback on the state's 1947 branch banking prohibition. The measure would allow branches in areas currently without banking facilities.

The U.S. Command has announced the loss of seven American planes Tuesday and Wednesday, raising to 714 the number of U.S. combat planes officially reported down over North Vietnam.

Navy pilots said in the raid on Phuc Yen Wednesday in addition to the 10 MIGs they wrecked on the ground, they destroyed the control tower, a hangar and two support buildings.

Lt. (j.g.) Robert Hickey, 24, of Watertown, N.Y., and his radar officer, Lt. (j.g.) Jeremy Morris, 25, of Western Grove, Ark., were credited with the MIG21 kill today. Flying an F4 Phantom, they reported bringing it down in a dogfight 15 miles south of Hanoi.

Referendum on Lower Voting Age Gets Initial Approval From Senate

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Senate Wednesday tentatively passed, then referred to committee, a measure designed to allow voters in November of 1968 to decide whether the state voting age should be lowered to 18.

The Senate endorsed the bill 27-15, then sent it to committee before a final passage vote could be reached. The measure was expected to be debated again later.

Workers Due to Return to Jobs At Ford Motors Today, Friday

DETROIT (AP) — Ford workers, after voting approval of a new three-year contract, should begin returning to their jobs today and Friday, says United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther.

The ratification ends the union's 49-day national strike at Ford, but local disputes may block a quick return to work at as many as 33 plants.

Voting results on the national contract at locals in the 25 states where Ford has facilities were announced Wednesday night from UAW international headquarters in Detroit.

In a joint statement, Reuther and Ken Bannon, head of the union's Ford department, said 90 per cent of Ford production workers and 70 per cent of skilled tradesmen had voted approval.

Other Companies

The union struck Ford at midnight Sept. 6 in search of a pattern-setting contract it will now take to General Motors and Chrysler, where UAW members have continued working without a contract.

Reuther said he will be calling on one or the other company shortly, but declined to say which one.

The new contract with Ford calls for immediate wage increases of 20 cents an hour, or $8 a week, for production workers and 50 cents an hour, or $20 a week, for skilled tradesmen.

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics says autoworkers now are paid $3.41 an hour.

Wages are to be increased 3 per cent in the second and third years of the contract.

Also provided for is a guaranteed annual income geared to seniority, so that a worker with seven or more years on the job who is laid off receives 95 per cent of his normal take-home pay minus $7.50-a-week on-the-job expense beginning in 1968.

He told Judge Eugene A. Hudson he would be better off in jail than in the streets during the winter. In spring, he said, he would find work painting houses.

He asked the judge to revoke his suspended six-month sentence for drunkenness and send him back to the House of Correction. The judge obliged.

The last time Sousa was in jail, he was given a barn to paint, but his sentence was up condition. The babies were 10 weeks premature and were placed in incubators. The largest of the quads weighed 10 pounds, 10 ounces, at birth Wednesday.

Your Money's Worth On Keeping Records to Back Up Income Report

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you ask the Internal Revenue Service how long you should keep various records for tax purposes, here is the answer you will get: "as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any internal revenue law."

Period.

Does this mouthful of mush translate into "You must keep piles of tax records indefinitely?"

Generally no, says the IRS. But there are important exceptions.

The question is of vital importance to tens of millions of taxpayers as we approach the end of the 1967 tax year.

Although there are no hard rules, there are rules of thumb which, for all practical purposes, apply to the majority of ordinary taxpayers. Here they are:

Usually Three Years

Ordinarily, the statute of limitations for the IRS to demand additional taxes from you or for you to demand additional refunds from the IRS is three years.

After the three-year period expires, the statute of limitations expires for the year in which you dispose of the property. If you make a loan to somebody, keep a record of the loan until it is actually paid. In the event the loan goes bad, you

Planners to Consider 2 Requests

Commission Will Meet Monday
At Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — The planning commission will meet at 4 p.m. Monday in the council rooms to consider two requests for property rezoning.

Joseph Van Daalwyk has requested rezoning of two lots in the Green Meadows plat, south of Crooks Avenue, from class A residential to local shopping district.

Property across the street is zoned local shopping and Van Daalwyk is considering construction of a split-level professional office building.

To be studied for a second time is a request from A. H. Frank for the rezoning of property at Tobacco and Oviatt streets from residential to local shopping district.

The site contains a building which had been operated as a grocery store since 1910. The owners contend the building is not suitable for anything but business and, because adjacent property owners recognized it as a business all these years, no objection should be made.

Design of the building is for local shopping, property across the street is rezoned heavy industrial and rezoning would not spoil the appearance of the neighborhood, argue the petitioners.

Failure to rezone would prevent sale or rental of the store building and be an injustice, they said.

A previous petition studied by the planning commission was not acted upon as commission members wanted to know what type of store would be operated in the area. The petitioners were unable to give a definite answer at that time.

Kimberly Plans
Conferences for School Parents

KIMBERLY — Elementary school youngsters in the public school system have been given forms, to be filled out by parents, concerning parent-teacher conferences.

Nov. 9 has been selected as conference date for students in grades one through six from Janssen and Ryan schools, Combined Locks, and the Kimberly and John Street elementary schools, Kimberly.

Conferences are set for 8 to 11:45 a.m. and 1 to 4:30 p.m. Parents are to designate time preference for conferences and an effort will be made to arrange meetings accordingly.

No classes will be held on this date and buses will not run, except for kindergarten children.

Report cards will be issued Nov. 8 thus teachers will be able to explain grades as well as discuss work habits, attitudes, and behavior of students.

Conference times will range from five to 15 minutes, depending on the size of classes and specific needs of individual students.

Parents returning the forms promptly will be notified of time for conference sessions. Parents having more than one child in school be given consideration in scheduling. Tentative dates set for kindergarten conferences are Nov. 27 and 28.

Kimberly Art Club
Sets Halloween Dance

KIMBERLY — The Kimberly High School Art Club, in cooperation with the recreation department, will sponsor a Halloween dance for high school students from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Tuesday in the high school commons.

The recreation department will help finance refreshments. Students having religious instruction can come to the dance later. No program is planned for younger students due to lack of interest the past few years.

Rec Department Halloween Party Planned Tuesday

KAUKAUNA — The recreation department, in cooperation with the Modern Woodmen of America, will sponsor a special Halloween program for city youngsters Tuesday night, according to James Gertz, recreation director.

A movie, "Munsters Go Home," will be shown at 7 p.m. for pre-school and grade school youngsters. Children attending will be treated to candy bars, popcorn and soft drinks.

A costume contest will be held with Mrs. Donald Yingling, Mrs. Merritt Kavanaugh and Roger Belling as judges.

Free souvenirs will also be distributed. Prizes will be awarded for best costumes and door prizes will also be given.

A "witch's wagon" will be held at 9 p.m. when calls will be made to homes of youngsters attending the party. If youngsters are found to be home, they will receive special major awards.

A teen dance will get underway at 7:15 p.m. in the old gym at the high school. A costume contest will be held with three boys and three girls. Costumes will not be required for attendance. Refreshments will be served and souvenirs distributed.

Litter With Cod, but Only Cape Cod, for

Hanslin, developer of the town of New Seabury on Cape Cod, said he will give away 50,000 free packets of wildflower seeds.

The program is named "By-way Beautnik Corps." and those who write to him will get a yellow button imprinted with the name and a certificate

Stassen Urges Investigation of Military-Industrial Complex

SPECIAL TO THE POST-CRESCENT
MADISON — Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, called Wednesday for a congressional investigation of the "military-industrial complex" and its impact on U.S. government policy.

Speaking at the University of Wisconsin, the former disarmament aide to President Dwight D. Eisenhower said a study of the influence of arms manufacturers and suppliers on the country was "an important area for a new bringing out of facts."

Stassen's remarks came in response to a question about the Dow Chemical Co., a manufacturer of napalm for the Vietnam War whose recruiting activities, he said, were being investigated by the Wisconsin campus last week prompted a student demonstration which failed to gain violence.

He declined to comment specifically on the Dow Co.

Stassen is appearing at various schools throughout the state during United Nations Week for the dual purpose of commemorating the U.N. charter, which he helped draft in 1945, and testing the political atmosphere for a possible campaign in Wisconsin's presidential primary.

He was accompanied by Floyd Springer Jr., Madison, chairman of the Wisconsin Stassen for President Committee.

The contractor has completed seeding the nine hole layout.

Trees were planted by a group headed by Gene Reidl, a club official. Reidl predicted the course should be ready by spring.

The course is laid out northwest of the Hortonville Community Club Park.
